"In my time here at MBA, Coach Lanier has become a good friend and I really enjoy our conversations, whether about day to day life or his love and knowledge of the beautiful game. Although a quietly-spoken man, when he talks, you listen to his words of wisdom."

Coach Giles Cheevers

Mr. John Lanier

"I owe my lifelong passion for soccer to this great man. Not only was he an inspiring coach for me during my senior season as a walk-on coach from Vandy, when I made the team as a freshman at Vanderbilt, he was my senior goalie. People do not realize that he is basically the founder and creator of the MBA soccer program as he was my coach senior year which was the first year of the program. Even now he greets me each morning with some statistic from a professional game he has witnessed and wants to share. My greatest testament to his love of the game and his players is that when I came back to MBA, he trusted me enough to turn over the Microbe program to me, and now he still coaches the Microbe B team with the same passion he brought to our first varsity team in 1973!"

Mr. Dick Klausner, former player and current coach with Mr. Lanier

For nearly four decades, Mr. John Lanier has called MBA home. During his tenure at MBA, Mr. Lanier was the head soccer coach for many years, leading the team to countless victories and championships. In 1973, a young Mr. Lanier was a student at Vanderbilt when he founded the soccer program that he would lead until 2010. Though he is often seen publicly on the soccer field, Mr. Lanier's true home has been in the classroom as he teaches his students to work with their "comrades" just as he commands his troops on the soccer field.

He has taught nearly every level of math at MBA, from Algebra I to Calculus, and he has led his students to success. His class may be difficult at times as he encourages his students to "use brain" as they work on his "MST3K's" from a 1955 math textbook. From "homeverk" requiring summiting Mr. Everest to daily "quizzage," he encourages his students to stay away from "baby problems" and instead challenge themselves to overcome the often challenging class, with each student becoming a "sharp type" by the end of the year.

Because of his long history at MBA, Mr. Lanier has had the opportunity to teach both sons and fathers, a truly amazing feat. One of the greatest gifts in each young man's career at MBA is a nickname from Mr. Lanier. A special touch that makes each class period exciting, these wild names vary from "Hells Bells" to "J-mac and Cheese" and everywhere in between. He is known as one of the funniest teachers on campus, making his students do "airplanes" for falling asleep, though he is usually very quiet outside of the classroom. Mr. Lanier's influence is apparent each day on the Hill as he strives to make each student a better man.

Hail Wallace Hall of thee we sing,
Just for a day or two.
Memory will 'round thee cling
And your time review.

Farewell to thee, nostalgically,
Never in our hearts to fall—
Though we fear soon to see
Swinging the wrecking ball!

MBA's gymnasium,
Built for hoopish strife,
Winning proud, or losing glum,
Fans brought these walls to life.

Next came the lofty study hall
Scene of scholarship.
A thoughtful silence, like a pall,
Held Wallace in its grip.

Downstairs in classrooms large and bright,
English and math were taught.
Here Mrs. Lowry shone her light,
And countless themes were wrought.

In later years the upstairs space
Was converted yet once more,
As several classrooms would replace
The study hall of yore.

Here was found, alas, for some,
One classroom windowless.
This gloom would Malcolm overcome
And other faults redress.

So Palmore and Gaither too
Held ignorance at bay.
Can any place both grand and new
This vigilance repay?

Who can forget the artifacts
Displayed in much profusion,
Where Moxley made polite attacks
On error and delusion?

How many Saturdays were spent
In Wallace twenty-six,
For appropriate punishment,
And willful ways to fix?

Along the halls were long displayed
Portraits for veneration—
Old boys in smiling groups arrayed
For each new generation.

And even I must pause to cast
One ling'ring look behind,
Upon the corner where I last Tried coaching of the mind.

Perhaps a thousand men or more,
Against new foes prevailing,
Now competing on another floor
To greater heights are scaling.

So bye-bye Wallace, shabby chic—
A shell cast on the beach—
No further lesson can we seek,
Who gladly learn and teach.

Dr. Wayne Batton

A New Vision for MBA

The Class of 2012 bids farewell to Wallace Hall. Though current students have only seen Wallace Hall as a classroom building, it has served generations of students as a gymnasium, study hall, demerit hall, and the location of assembly. The building holds a special place in the heart of each person who walked its halls, particularly those teachers who spent so many decades teaching in the same room.

Though the brick and mortar may be gone, the legacy of the building lives on in the new Wallace Hall, set for completion in the spring of 2013. This is the final step of renovations that have dramatically transformed the campus, readying MBA for a new generation of students, and another century of educating young men.

By THE NASHVILLE BANNER, Feb. 28, 1941

More Classrooms For MBA

An old gymnasium at Montgomery Bell Academy will be remodeled into an 80-classroom building, to be called Wallace Hall. The Wallace Alumni have donated $25,000 and the MBA Fathers' Club a similar amount to finance the project, which will be completed in time for the fall term. David K. Wilson is chairman of the Wallace group and John Oster is chairman of the Fathers'. The new hall will include an assembly and study hall and was designed by H. H. Harrison and G. G. G. Architects.

Regardless of how dysfunctional old buildings become, their memories can never be demolished. From numerous gray-headed alums, I've heard stories recalling infamous mischief like the time a boy threw a wet paper towel at a teacher in study hall, splattering it on the poor man's chest. Or the time another boy, who received a failing theme, wadded up his paper, uttered a mild expletive, and launched it out the window. Or the time a young Mr. Moxley—managing 64 boys in the huge upstairs Wallace Study Hall—kept hearing his name being whispered from somewhere and nowhere, while the 64 conspirators worked quietly, heads down. It took half the period to discover the tape recorder padlocked inside a locker, timed to whisper the teacher's name over and over. For sure, some teaching and learning happened in Wallace Hall—Gaithers and Battens, Lowrys and Palmores probably taught more brilliant boys than anywhere since Plato's Academy. But, for me, I'll never forget Wallace's monstrous study hall—torture chamber of 350 bolted-down desks—that broke in one tenderfoot teacher.

Gentleman, Scholar, Athlete

Ask the typical MBA student what it means to be a part of the MBA community and you are guaranteed a response that includes the vast amount of activities and events that MBA students take part in throughout the year. Whether a participant in service, athletics, debate, mock trial, spirit, music, theater, visual art, publications, or just flat out being in the classroom, the MBA student is often defined by his innumerable passions, which makes The Hill a truly special place.

Theater Arts at MBA has flourished throughout the 2011-2012 year. The season debuted with the MBA/Harpeth Hall collaborative musical, The Pajama Game, featuring one of the largest casts in our school's history. Following this success, MBA's One-Act Competition entry, You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown, Directed by Dr. Rick Seay took to the stage and won Runner-up at the Tennessee Theater Association performance. The show later traveled to Chattanooga for the Southeastern Theater Conference where senior Aaron Ardisson won All-Star Cast. In the weeks to follow, the Cold War satire The Mouse that Roared, directed by Dr. Cal Fuller, opened with a bang. The following Spring, Twelfth Night, directed by Malcolm Morrison, reeled in audiences. Alex Floyd won our annual Shakespeare Competition and went on to represent MBA at the State competition at Belmont. Theater artist-in-residence, Michael Sidney Fosberg came in mid-spring to perform his one man show, Incognito, and teach various workshops. The year ended with a colorful set of One-Acts, directed by seniors, and our Shakespeare-athon fundraiser for Tennessee Repertory Theater.

When walking around the MBA campus, it would not be surprising to hear more and more music flooding the campus than years past. Students have actively taken an interest in music and the arts at MBA and now, more than ever, concerts and venues for showing off student talent has been extremely evident. From student bands like "What Up, English," "Boy Named Banjo," and "The Moderates," to countless individuals working to master stringed, brass, and woodwind instruments at Vanderbilt's Blair School of Music, the melodies coming from The Hill are strong with refreshingly young talent.

I always thought this would be one of the most creative and interesting writing experiences. Thus far, it is not really living up to my expectations. Sitting with Vaughn and writing our respective bios, I feel it will be rather pointless to throw all our memories from high school onto some hypothetical word document. I could write about Captain Crunch Night and the many different outcomes of wearing orange spandex; however, doing so feels almost as if it might strip away the weightiness of those memories. But for the sake of the archives:

Say no more; Jeffery and Dominique; OH, BIG RAM; Dark Clad Company; Pirates; Lumpy Space Princess; Squirrel face; Porthos, that's the wrong song! Oh, Porthos; Snoopy; Pulling a Jamie; BONGO; Dude, Brianne gave me free coffee!; House coffee?...Deep House coffee! Unce Unce Unce Unce; Hey, I got locked in the mall!; Bongo boy looks nothing like me!; I will be strange, stout, in yellow stalking and cross-gartered.

Well, whoever is reading this; I hope that you have enjoyed a peek into my mind, my memories. Au revoir!

The last six years of my life have been an incredible journey of personal growth that I can't believe is coming to an end. I've formed some priceless friendships and discovered more about myself than I ever thought possible, filled with great memories along the way. As hard as it is to coming into a paragraph, here it goes.

Despite a rough two years in junior school, I have to give credit where credit is due. If there's anything that I took away from the 7th and 8th grade, it is how to be a man of honor and integrity. I'm happy to have had such strong role models to emphasize this. Shift to high school and I really grew into myself. I learned how good a cup of lemonade with friends can be, that nothing quite brings people together like Halloween, and how fun a bro night of poker can be. I learned one is never too old for Pump It Up and that you can fit quite a lot in the back of a Kia. I got high on history with Disco Dan and constantly had my personal space invaded in Dr. Clements's class. I'll always hold my memories of playing varsity football and the even more memories of standing on the sideline.

I've learned that MBA is much more than a school. It is a brotherhood filled with a group of guys that will always have my back, through thick and thin. I couldn't have made it through MBA without my best friends who mean the world to me. Also, I couldn't have made the journey without my parents. I'll always hold MBA in my heart as I transition to the next chapter of my life.

I have loved my four years on The Hill. It's amazing to look back on what I've accomplished and think that I almost left after my sophomore year. I will never forget the friends (and mistakes) that I've made. So without further ado, here come a slew of inside jokes you won't understand... Wow I'm behind in English; Where's my theme Mr. Rozario?; Record Holder for Summer School courses; Yokay men, let's light up; a7 4n; "Whoa, what's going on?"; 2:06; Aligator-Gar; No summer school?; Pool Shots; Junior Homecoming was SICK; 6-hour conversation; Dude, that was SIC; Casual high-five?; The World Series of Poker 2011; Pump it Up 2011; Who wants to shotgun a Cherry Coke?; Straight-As are cool; LEMONADE!; Football 2012: "Can we go to your house?"; NAME THE SONG; "Joe get out of my back seat"; Way too many fireworks; "Actually, I'm kind of in between trash cans right now"; J&D LLC; France; Halloweird 2011; "Yeah, just invite a couple of peopl- Oh god..."; YOU THINK YOU RUN THIS SCHOOL; Being grounded; I SELL KNIVES; "Leadership Retreat"; Rooftop; Lime Tree; "No, we met at a football game" - Thank god for Jamiee

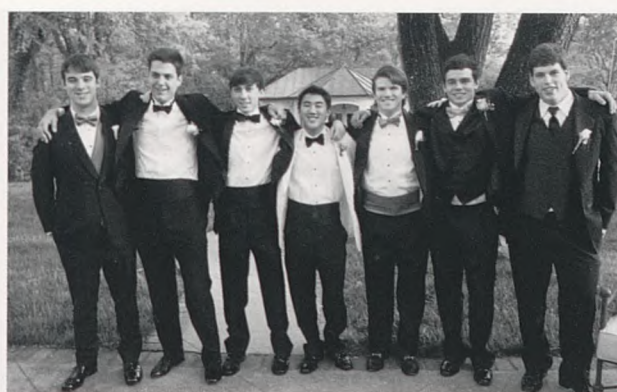

Here's a poem:

I would rather be ashes than dust!
I would rather that my spark should burn out in a brilliant blaze than it should be stifled by dry-rot.

I would rather be a superb meteor every atom of me in magnificent glow
than a sleepy and permanent planet.

The function of man is to live
not to exist.
I shall not waste my days trying to prolong them.
I shall use my time.

Credo - Jack London

These past 2 1/2 years have flown by, and I can't believe that my short time on the Hill is coming to an end. MBA has given me so many opportunities: rowing, academic competitions, this book, and experiences that I will never forget. MBA has been a home for me and the people have made it special. I could never have imagined the great friends I have made or the welcome I received from my classmates in the 10th grade. We have had many great times, from bro time in study hall to late night FCA. We have seen troubles and triumph, shared joy in success and laughs in the pain, and guided each other through it all. More than anything, I will miss the brotherhood that we have found over the years, and I hope it will continue into the future. To all of my teachers, I can never thank you enough for giving me the chance to come to MBA and to succeed. I am forever thankful for your making an exception. Special thanks to Mr. Gioia, Mr. Norton, Dr. Dickens, Mr. Spiegl, Mr. Bullington, Mr. Ferrell, Mr. Tillman, Mrs. Lechleiter, and so many more. Dr. Marro, thank you for your constant support and attention to detail. To those yet to flip their ring, make the most of the Hill, the opportunities are endless, but don't forget to Smash every once in a while. Most of all, I would like to thank my Lord and Savior Jesus Christ for his unwavering love. I'll never forget my short time on the Hill, but I know that all memories will be filled with nostalgia for the Big Red.

First of all I'd like to thank all of my teachers and coaches that have helped me throughout the years. Among the many I have had, I would like to take the time to thank a few of my teachers and coaches that have really helped me out. I'd like to thank Coach Waller from 8th grade basketball. That season was one of the most fun seasons I have ever, including still to this day the most exciting game I have ever played in (semifinals of the tournament against BA) and it made me better as a person to get yelled at everyday. Also, I want to thank Coach McGugin. You have been a huge influence in my work ethic and you were a huge reason for my pursuing and more importantly achieving my goal of playing in the Ivy League. First off, I would like to thank Mr. Gaither for kicking my butt freshman year and teaching me the hard work and thoroughness that is necessary to make good grades. Also, I would like to thank Dr. Dickens for showing me what is possible for me to do if I really stick to the course work and study hard at understanding the concepts.

Secondly, I would like to thank all my friends throughout the years. I have had so many unbelievably fun times—so many that I could never come close to making a complete list of all of them. Like I said, I tried to write down all the memories but filled up way too much space. All the memories have come together to create one memory of high school as being the most fun part of my life up to this point. It's been absurdly fun and I'm glad I could spend this time with y'all.

Lastly and most importantly, I would like to thank God and my family. Werner, you have been a great brother and I hope I have been the same. I want to urge you to work as hard as you can in both lacrosse and school because your senior year will be here before you know it. Try to put fun in third place behind school and sports because I promise you there will be no shortage of fun as long as you are at MBA. Mom and Dad, you have given me the best life in the past 18 years that I could ever imagine and I can only hope to give my kids a life that is even close to as good as the one that I have lived for the past 18 years. I can never thank you enough for springing for my MBA education; it has been the best experience I could ever ask for. And I can never express as much appreciation as you two deserve for raising me the way you did. Thanks and Love.

My time at MBA has been an amazing blessing. My years on the hill have been more than invaluable to me. Attending an institution that has as much to offer as MBA is the most incredible opportunity I've ever been granted, and I'll be eternally grateful for all that I have taken away from it. I would like to thank everyone who has contributed to my experience in any way. For my teachers, thank you all for your tireless efforts in the classroom. Your lessons will go with me for the rest of my life. Never before have I seen an institution gifted with such an incredible staff, and I am truly grateful to have fallen under your instruction. To my friends, I would like to thank you all for all the memories and laughs over the years. I've loved every second I've gotten to spend with you all, and I'll miss you in the years to come. Finally, I'd like to thank my family. You all truly are the reason I've made it this far in life. I owe all my experiences and opportunities to your dedication and words cannot describe how appreciative I am of all that you do. For Lilly, I've enjoyed watching you grow over the years and am very excited for you to attend Harpeth Hall next year. You're an amazing girl and a wonderful sister, thank you for all the laughs and support. For Ross, the favorite part of my day these last two years has been riding with you to school. Whether we talk about school, music, sports, or any other topic, I've loved our time together. Take full advantage of everything that your next four years has to offer. I'm going to miss our commute every morning next year. For Mom, I've never met a more caring and kind person. Your affection has helped me so much in my life. I've come to view you as both a mother and a friend, and I cannot explain how much I appreciate everything you've done, sacrificed, given, and taught me. I love you. For Dad, you truly are the biggest influence in my life. You've pushed me to my best in countless situations, and although it may not appear so always, I'll be eternally grateful for each time. You've taught me so much in life, and I'll always view you as the biggest reason for my success at MBA and in life. Words cannot describe how much I'll miss you next year. I'll always be indebted to this institution for the knowledge and experiences it has given to me, and for this indebtedness and all who have contributed to it, I am grateful.

Continue steadfastly in prayer, being watchful in it with thanksgiving.
-Colossians 4:2

I want to thank everyone for all the support I have received during my time at MBA. I thank all my friends for the good times and happy memories. I thank all my teachers for the wisdom and knowledge that you have passed on to me. I thank my parents for allowing me to attend such a marvelous school.

I want to individually thank two people who have been so helpful and loving to me this whole time. Coach Sharbel, I've spent my four years on The Hill with the Rifle team. You have always been so willing to help me, especially during my junior and senior years. I want you to know that I will always be grateful for your work, and I will miss you. Marissa, I've had a lot of trouble at MBA, but no matter what the problem was, how it affected me, or what the consequences were, you were always there supporting me. There were many times when I wanted to give up, to quit, but you didn't let me. I'm not sure if I could have made it through MBA without you. No one has a better sister than I do. I will always love you.

These four years on the hill have gone by too quickly in some ways and not quickly enough in others. I look back on the first day of freshmen year and see us all in our coats and ties eagerly awaiting the next four years of our lives. I see many boys who have now evolved into men. I love every single one of you. You are my brothers and I wish you all the best of luck with whatever endeavors life brings before you.

"The things taught in schools are not an education but the means of an education."

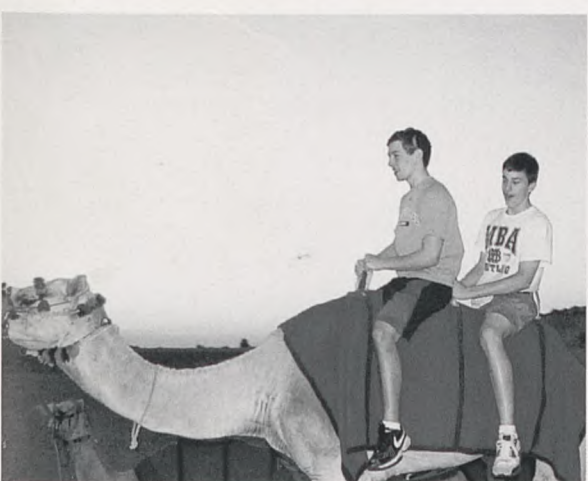

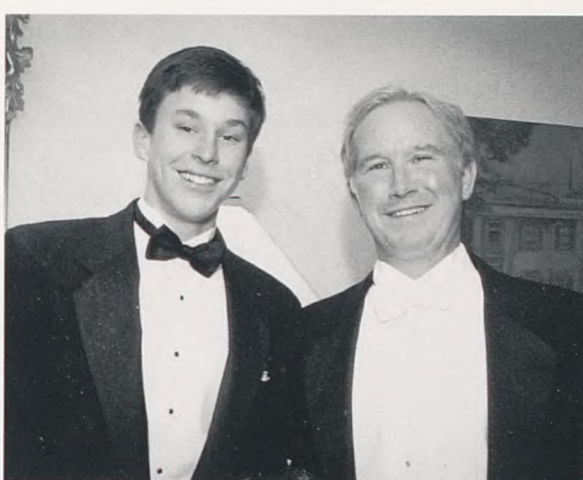

-Ralph Waldo Emerson

A very special thank you to all my teachers and coaches who have guided me personally and academically throughout my tenor at MBA. You all's steadfastness and willingness to provide help and guidance at any moment certainly made my MBA experience quite special.

A special thanks to Mr. Golenor for teaching me that a strong personality is never something to be ashamed of. Mr. Herring, your approach to teaching American History will never be forgotten. Dr. Kinch, thank you for teaching me that you must be original to be a part of the tradition. Mrs. Palmore, reading the books certainly makes the tests much easier. Mr. Norton, forever keep your nose to the grindstone. Dr. Boyd, I'll find you a carrot. Dr. Shackleford, one day we shall meet in Hotel California. Dr. Batten, thank you for pushing me to my limit. Mr. Moxley, I appreciate the love and passion that you bring to your work each and every day. Mr. Lester, do not lose your intellectual curiosity. Coach Mawae, one day I will buy you a sacked lunch.

Thay, your love of tennis and the process of improvement have shown me how to work for your potential to truly be the best that I can be. We do it for the love of the game.

I want to especially thank Mr. Brad Gioia for the invaluable guidance over the last six years. You are strong in the good times and in the bad, and I appreciate your never-ending quest to educate others and to continue to make MBA a great school for boys. You have listened to the tears and to the cheers. Thank you for all that you have done for me. MBA certainly is on a hill and I am proud to say that I attended that fine school with my classmates. Thank you Mom and Dad for all your love and support.

I have built the strongest of relationships with friends and teachers and will cherish them forever. I would especially like to thank my mother, because without her, I don't know that I would have survived MBA. I would also like to thank my advisor, Coach Harvey, for watching after me during my four years in high school.

To Mom and Dad, I respect you two more than anyone else in the world. I know I've been a handful but y'all have handled it well. You two are seriously the coolest parents imaginable and I think any of my friends would agree. Thank you so much for always pushing me to do my best. Dad, you're one of the hardest working, strangest, funniest, men I know. Mom you're the nicest, happiest, smiliest woman I know. I couldn't have made it to this point without you two. Thank you so much, I love y'all.

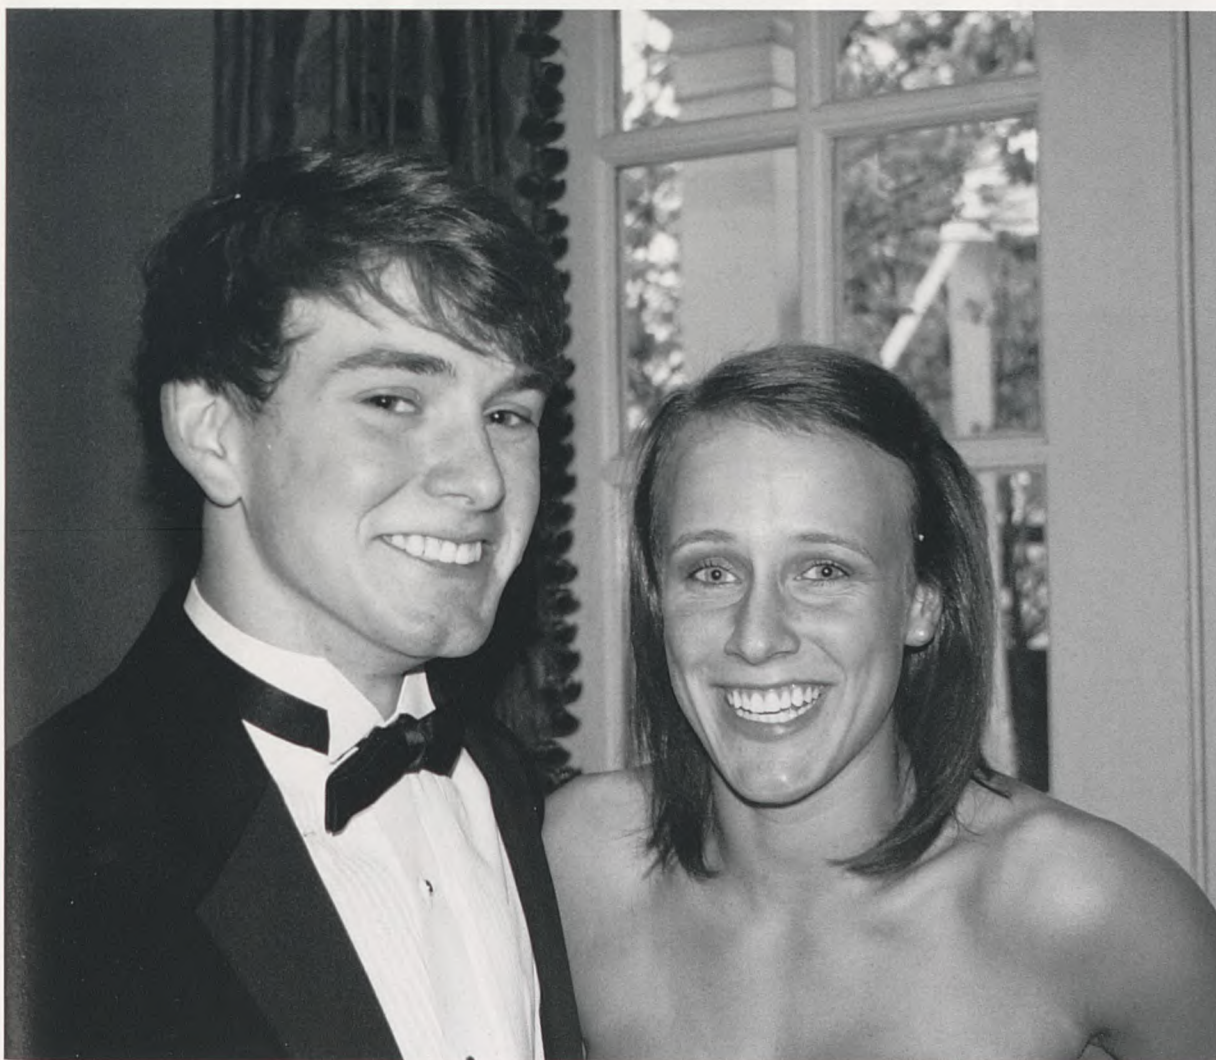

To Mard, you'll probably be horrified the second you discover that I put you in my bio (LOL), but I couldn't leave you out because you have been one of the biggest and best parts of the past four years. You've been my best friend since 9th grade and you probably know me better than I know myself. Thank you so much for always being there for me. Love ya.

To all the guys in this picture, y'all are the best group of friends a guy could ask for. Going through MBA together was like going into battle together, and we've come out of it closer than I could have ever imagined. Love y'all. Couldn't have made it without you guys.

Casey and Clay y'all are fairly good siblings. Love you two.

Thank you Carrie, Grandad, Gigi, JB, Grandpa, and Nora for always supporting me. You are all amazing grandparents and I am so thankful to have all of you in my life.

Thank you to all my teachers and coaches. Mr. Gioia, Jorgan Petit, George Mario, Mr. Russell, Mr. Herring, Mr. Womack, Mr. Kelly, Dr. Carro, Dr. Kinch, Coach Pippin, Coach Sawyer, Mr. Pruitt, Mr. Tillman, Dr. Seay, Mr. Bernatavitz, Coach Shone, Mr. Woolsey, Coach V, Mr. Spiegel, Mr. Paolicchi, Coach Klausner, and I'm probably leaving out a ton of others but as with all of my other work in high school I saved this bad boy for the last minute. Thank you to every teacher and every coach that I've had for shaping me into the person I've grown to be.

The year was 2006. The 7th grade assignment was to write a letter by the end of the year outlining your hopes and aspirations while at MBA. I remember writing in my letter that coming to MBA will be the cornerstone of my future. It is true, not entirely because of the athlete they helped me become, but of the person they helped me grow to be. Here it is 2012. I know now what the MBA class ring represents. I wear it proudly because off all the discipline, hard work, awesome friendships, and loyalty instilled by my professors and coaches. These life teachers would demand more of my time, energy, heart, and mind that I could ever imagine during my years at MBA. I learned from them that it is not one day that matters, it is every day and the commitment and rewards that come as an athlete, a scholar, and a gentleman. Given all our time together, they have left the biggest and most valuable impact on my life. I feel the odds are in my favor! A special thank you and acknowledgment to my swim coach, Coach and my MBA Mentors: Mr. Tillman, Mr. Jones, Mr. Klausner, Dr. Marro, and Mr. Shone. ROLL RED

"In this world you will have trouble. But take heart! I have overcome the world." -John 16:33

I want to thank my parents first for working so hard to send me to this school. Thank you, Ms. Hollifield, for welcoming me and being the best advisor on campus. Thank you, Coach Sanders, for showing me how Jesus brings the dead to life. Thank you, Warren, for playing guitar with me. It was great to see how much God worked in my life but even crazier to see what doors he opened once I surrendered my life to him.

If I had any advice, it would be this: Don't just love your brothers and sisters, but love the forgotten and the lost. Love the people who curse you and say all kinds of evil against you. If you only love those who love you, what reward is in that. Jesus didn't come to save those who already followed him but the ones who were oppressed and hopeless, the lifeless and the broken. Surrender to Jesus.

Looking back on it, these past 6 years really have been incredible. Thanks Mom and Dad for your unconditional love and support in everything I've done. To the other 3 members of What Up, English, you guys have really been like brothers to me, and high school would not have been half as fun or memorable without you. To all the rest of my friends, thanks for always being there for me. I've had an incredible time in high school almost entirely because of you guys. Lilly, you've also done more for me than I could ever begin to tell you. I've been blessed at MBA with a ton of amazing teachers and mentors, and I can't even begin to express the huge impact you all have had on me. MBA can be tough at times, but having been through it all, I definitely now realize that it's all completely worth it in the end.

Thank you Jaws, Slob, Hoke, Preston, Jamie, Chadam, Ardy, and Vaughn. You guys are great. Can't wait for future bro time, I bet Rob's pretty excited.

My time on the hill has been incredible and I wouldn't trade it for any other school and any other class of fine young intellectuals in the world. Thank you Mr. Rundberg for four years of hardly advising, I'll keep working on that billion dollars for the Rundberg School. Thank you Dr. Dickens, Mr. Morrison, and Mr. Smyth for writing my college recs. Thank you Coach Lanier, you're freakin crazy. Thank you Dr. Fuller for your patience and guidance. Thank you CDR Carr for being more of a bro than I thought sophomore year. No Complaints. Roll Red.

Thomas Forcum

Wow, 4 years ago I'd never have imagined I'd even be a senior at MBA much less graduating. But look at me now! I've matured from the epic eighth grade Thurmond class in which I spent most of my time running around the buildings, in his office, and making comments like "that's what she said" and "It's okay cause I was in the bathroom" to the scholastic "Let's take this test!" I've obviously made leaps and bounds. My years here have ever been interesting too. From here, I plan on attending Sewanee to become one with the wall, although I've done some research and disappointingly there is no Nashville Ballet. My time after-school has been a time of dedication and hard work making the world a better place at churches all over Nashville. To my little bro and anyone else reading I highly suggest putting some time into religion. Flies and fly fishing have never been better too. Thanks for reading,

Andrew Fortugno

"The details of my life are quite inconsequential... very well, where do I begin? My childhood was typical. Summers in Rangoon, luge lessons. In the spring we'd make meat helmets. When I was insolent I was placed in a burlap bag and beaten with reeds-pretty standard really."

Connor Gawaluck

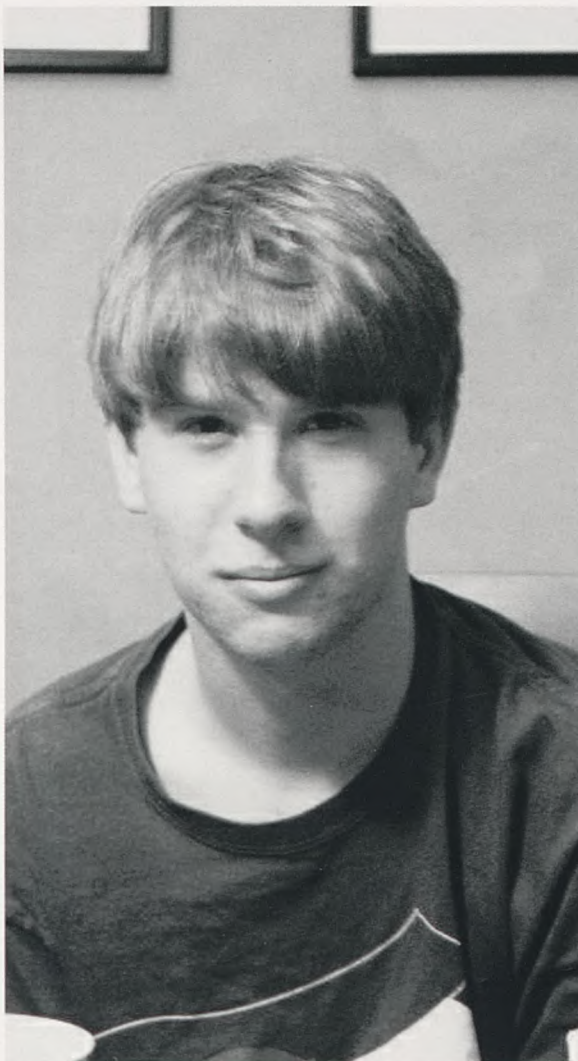

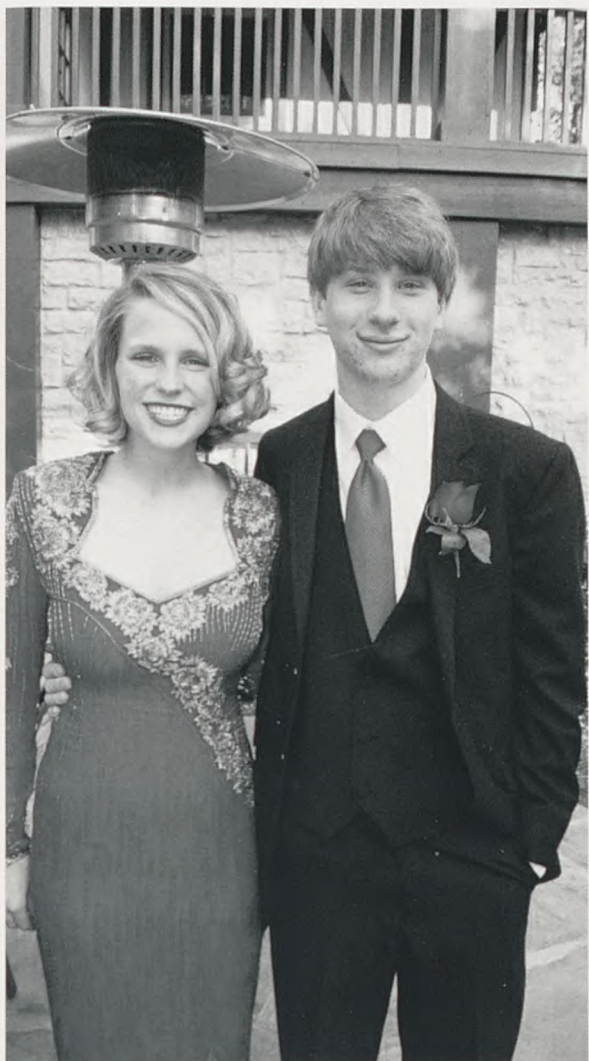

If I leave here tomorrow
 Would you still remember me?
 For I must be traveling on, now
 'Cause there's too many places I've got to see
 But, if I stayed here with you, girl
 Things just couldn't be the same
 'Cause I'm as free as a bird now
 And this bird you can not change
 And this bird you can not change
 And this bird you can not change
 Lord knows, I can't change

Bye, bye, baby it's been a sweet love
 Though this feeling I can't change
 But please don't take it so badly
 'Cause Lord knows I'm to blame
 But, if I stayed here with you girl
 Things just couldn't be the same
 'Cause I'm as free as a bird now
 And this bird you can not change
 And the bird you can not change
 And this bird you can not change
 Lord knows, I can't change
 Lord help me, I can't change

Lord I can't change
 Won't you fly, free bird, yeah *guitar*

Now if you're feelin' kinda low 'bout the dues
You've been payin'
'Future's comin' much too
slow
And you wanna run but somehow you keep on stayin' Can't decide on which way to go

I understand about indecision
But I don't care if I get behind
People living in competition
All I want is to have my peace of mind

Now you're climbing to the top of the company ladder
Hope it doesn't take too long Can't you see there'll come a day when it won't matter Come a day when you'll be gone
Take a look ahead
Take a look ahead
Yea, yea, yea, yea

Well everybody's got advice they just keep on givin'
Doesn't mean to much to me
Lots of people have to make believe they're livin' Can't decide who they should be

Take a look ahead
Take a look ahead
Yea, yea, yea, yea

Look ahead!

Six years later and I've got a whole lot of memories, more than I can sum up on one page. I sat down with my buddies the other day and reminisced all the good times we had together over our time at MBA. The senior bio could only be 300 words, we managed to hit 1500. I'll always have my real senior bio to share and bond with my bros years down the road...It's a piece of paper I'll never lose or forget. But there's not one remembrance I could possibly cut out, so instead I leave the class of 2012 with these words.

In retrospect, our time on the hill is close to a fifteenth of our life

But those six years will determine the next eighty-four, if we fail or if we thrive gentleman, scholar, athlete is the motto from which we abide

Seventh grade registration with our senior buddies, up until the day we die

Don't waste time; don't let a minute go by
You will live, and then you will die

Our journey on the hill, from boys to men
Our time will end, and another's will begin

Let's get weird

Success

by: Ralph Waldo Emerson

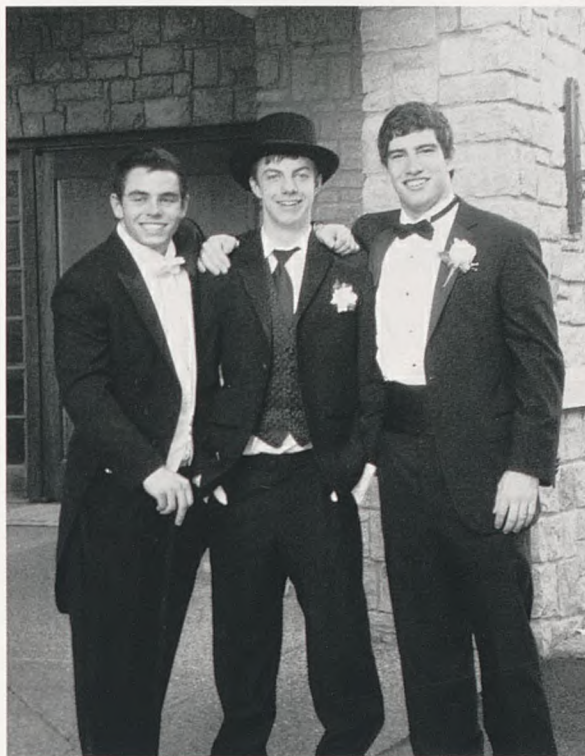

To laugh often and much;
To win the respect of intelligent people and the affection of children;
To earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure
the betrayal of false
friends;
To appreciate beauty,
To find the best in others,
To leave the world a bit better, whether by a healthy child,
A garden patch or a
redeemed social condition;
To know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived.
This is to have succeeded.

I would like to thank all of my teachers and coaches for inspiring me to do my best in all of my endeavors. They have pushed me to make myself better every day, and while at times these challenges seemed overwhelming, I would not have had it any other way. I would also like to thank my classmates, with whom I have been able to spend these six years which seem so short in retrospect. I wish them the best of luck in their college careers and lives ahead.

Sincerely, Alex Hagar

Without my parents, and their loving care and goodwill, the events of the past four years would not have been possible. My gratitude is unbounded. For all the students who are new arrivals at this school, I have only one piece of advice: character matters. Nobody will act as your conscience. Develop principles, and prudently keep them. I myself learned this from my own family.

Now is the list of thanks to those who helped me along the way. First,
I would like to thank all my English teachers, from my freshman year, to the end of senior year. You have given this stubborn student the ability to reasonably articulate his thoughts, something he desperately needed.
Secondly, I would like to thank you,
Dr. Gaffney, for instilling my linguistic curiosity. Mme O'Connell, merci beaucoup! Your enthusiastic guidance through my French studies was the light in the bleakness of everyday routine. Thank you, Dr.
Cassel for enthusiastically introducing and guiding me through Chamber and Orchestra. Mr. Meredith, I am very grateful for your patience and careful instruction of my musical studies. Your assistance has taught me to love, not hate, the metronome.
Your methods are now indispensable for tackling difficult pieces. And of course, I extend my deep gratitude to you, Coach Sharbel, not only for developing my inner marksman, but also inspiring me with many life lessons that I will never forget. I hope that all goes well in your next career. If I have neglected to properly thank anybody, I apologize.
The full list would exceed the limits prescribed for this "bio". To summarize, I will always remember the friends, faculty, staff, and, of course, the knowledge that this school gave me. At this point, I can only say, "Until we meet again!"

Freshman Year: Woodmont Park, Ball Second Floor, Random number generator named Tera, meeting classmates at seaside, Piggy back rides from carter at steeplechase, Eric names me, this class is going to fly like a pteradactyl, I'm sorry gentleman I didn't know what that meant, where did the porch go, "everyones dead", skipper, Reames awkwardness, "how did that get on the ceiling?", P-town bonfires, Max tying George to a desk

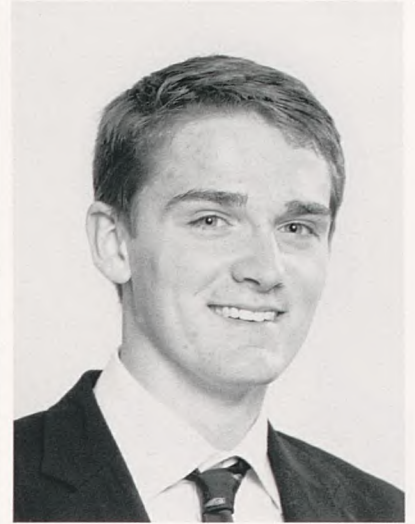

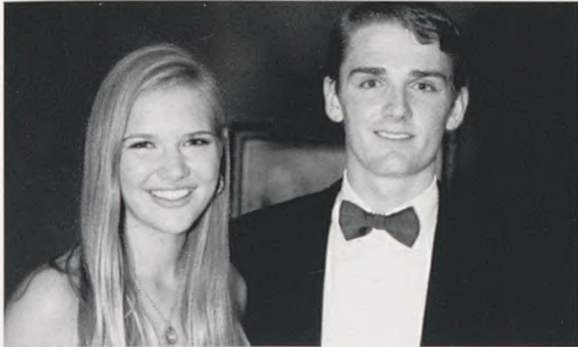

Sophomore Year: The corner of Jackson and Belle Meade, I eat so many shrimp..., Duece-five, Sean Martin, Bromorial Day, Ginger destroys Gray's leg, Fife's cabin brawls, Brotemoi vs. CSA, Reames awkwardness, Carter sleeping with the d, "Con and his friends are going to kill us", Reames can't sleep, Mid-homecoming runs to Woodmont, OCMS new years, Con calls the hitmen, John leaves me a present in my blazer, finally getting a bid to Brotemoi, Rajah's utopian cult, "Heard you got robbed by Boo", Jake makes money every weekend, John gives out triple 6 cds, Neils always wears black,

Junior year: Bruner goes boots, Bathtub concoctions, Williamson county ag center, Just me myself and Meluch's house, hugh's seaside pool, gravel bar at Reames's, tying the noose, carter takes the tee box with him, Palmer's basement reames is awkward Ryland loses fight with an 8th grader, reames fishes solo, trench foot, "Your exchange student won't survive tonight", washer dryer, so like does your dad play a sport? The twins John and Patton, "Did you just hit that car?", Cop killa, Dino's sketchy party, fitting into a 4 and under dinosaur costume, Carter's the Sheriff, Palmer's basement again, Carter uses the truck stick at cma fest. Kareem Abdul Jabbar, Senior Year: The roads we take, John "mopaholic Morphis, staying presidential with chris, If it ain't Pike, Con quotes, Halo 2 marathons at Henry's, uhh sorry wrong Henry, Pissy pants Davies, P. Diddy's disco party, Ed fights Jeremy Lin, Ya we are in a bush... Council of Elders, Reames is rolling, Black Hole time with Morphis, Gray's bottom story, John still uses the same jokes as fresman year, "should I throw it", "whose smelly searsuckers", tailgating the boulevard bolt, did it rain last night?, Reames is still awkward. This is my grandmother's house! Presidential hot tub parties, "It went from good to gasoline in an instant"

Lastly, I would like to say thank you to my parents. I realize that my freshman and sophomore year GPA made your hair turn gray, and my antics through out the years have made you have your worries. I'm sure that Matthew and Georgie will be less of a hassle Despite all this, you supported me in everything I did, whether it was athletics or academics. Thank you for encouraging me to attend MBA for my freshman year. Thank you to all my teachers in all my years who guided me through the whole process even though I didn't always want to listen to them. Thank you to my wrestling coaches and teammates who pushed me through all my four years and supported. Thank you to all of the others who helped me succeed and make it through MBA.

As someone sets light to the first fire of autumn
we settle down to cut ourselves apart.
cough and twitch from the news on your face and some foreign candle burning in your eyes

Held to the past too aware of the pending chill as the dawn breaks and finds us up for sale.
enter the fog another low road descending away from the cold lust, your house and summertime.

Blind to the last curse of the fair pistols and
countless eyes
a trail of white blood betrays the reckless route
your craft is running
feed till the sun turns into wood dousing an ancient torch
loiter the whole day through and lose yourself in lines dissecting love.

Your name on my cast and my notes on your stay offer me little but doting on a crime.
we've turned every stone and for all our inventions

in matters of love loss, we've no recourse at all.
Blind to the last curse of the fair pistols and
countless eyes
a trail of white blood betrays the reckless route
your craft is running
feed till the sun turns into wood dousing an
ancient torch
loiter the whole day through and lose yourself in
lines dissecting love.

Saint Stephen with a rose, in and out of the garden he goes,
Country garden in the wind and the rain,
Wherever he goes the people all complain.
Stephen prosper in his time, well he may and he may decline.

Did it matter, does it now? Stephen would answer
if he only knew how.
Wishing well with a golden bell, bucket hanging clear to hell,

Hell halfway twist now and then,
Stephen fill it up and lower down and lower down again.

Lady finger, dipped in moonlight, writing "What for?" across the morning sky.

Sunlight splatters, dawn with answer, darkness
shrugs and bids the day goodbye.

Speeding arrow, sharp and narrow,
What a lot of fleeting matters you have spurned.
Several seasons with their treasons,

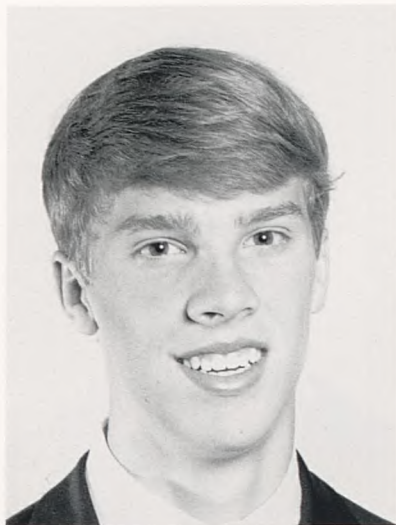

Wrap the babe in scarlet colors, call it your own.
Did he doubt or did he try? Answers aplenty in the bye and bye,

Talk about your plenty, talk about your ills,
One man gathers what another man spills.
Saint Stephen will remain, all he's lost he shall regain,

Seashore washed by the suds and foam,
Been here so long, he's got to calling it home.
Fortune comes a crawlin', calliope woman,
spinnin' that curious sense of your own.
Can you answer? Yes I can. But what would be the answer to the answer man?

-Jerry Garcia

Bob Marley - Three Little Birds

"Don't worry about a thing,
'Cause every little thing gonna be all right.
Singin': "Don't worry about a thing,
'Cause every little thing gonna be all right!"

Rise up this mornin',
Smiled with the risin' sun,
Three little birds
Pitch by my doorstep
Singin' sweet songs
Of melodies pure and true,
Sayin', ("This is my message to you-ou-ou:")

Singin': "Don't worry 'bout a thing,
'Cause every little thing gonna be all right."

Singin': "Don't worry (don't worry)
'bout a thing,
'Cause every little thing gonna be all right!"

Rise up this mornin',
Smiled with the risin' sun,
Three little birds
Pitch by my doorstep
Singin' sweet songs
Of melodies pure and true,
Sayin', "This is my message to you-ou-ou:"

Singin': "Don't worry about a thing,
worry about a thing, oh!
Every little thing gonna be all right.
Don't worry!"

Singin': "Don't worry about a thing" -
I won't worry!
"Cause every little thing gonna be all right."

Singin': "Don't worry about a thing,
'Cause every little thing gonna be all right" - I won't worry!
Singin': "Don't worry about a thing,
'Cause every little thing gonna be all right."

Singin': "Don't worry about a thing,
oh no!
'Cause every little thing gonna be all right!"

Special thanks to Coach Smith and Coach Harvey for everything they have done for me. Also, Mr. Kelly who somehow made old English literature very enjoyable and told some great stories along the way. Mom and Dad, I couldn't be happier that I ended up at MBA and none of it would have been possible without y'all; thanks so much. Thanks to Rem, Tobias, and Finn for putting up with any complaining I did about teachers, most of which probably shouldn't be repeated, and my sometimes "grumpapotamus" attitude. It's been tough but fun and definitely worth it. Thanks so much to everybody who made my time at MBA possible.

My Beautiful Dark Twisted Fantasy - Kanye West, Recession - Young Jeezy, Friday Night Lights - J Cole, Return of 4eva - Big Krit, Man on the Moon - Kid Cudi, Take Care - Drake, and of course 21 - Adele (life changer right there). Inception, Avatar, Toy Story 3, Social Network, Sherlock 2, and of course Nanny McPhee Returns (classic).

First and foremost I'd like to thank my mother for forcing me to come to MBA. I was not in favor of coming to this school at all originally but overtime I've realized just how amazing of a school it is. Sure I've faced a lot of challenges during my time on the hill but I feel like MBA's best asset, its people, have been so instrumental in helping me embrace these challenges and also helping me to thoroughly enjoy my time here. So I'd like to thank all my fellow classmates as well as the many other students I've come know during my time on the Hill, it's been a blast spending time with you all throughout the years and I'm confident that I'll remain close friends with many of you for many, many years to come. I'd also like to thank all the teachers that I've had the pleasure of learning from the past 3 1/2 years. You all are truly the best at what you do and I look forward to coming back and visiting with you all in the future. Special thanks to Coach Anglin and Coach Mac for helping me to progress on and off the court the each and every year, you both have truly been a blessing in my life. Finally, I'd really like to thank my advisors Mr. Ferrell and Mrs. Lechleiter. You both have been like my on campus mom and dad and I love you both dearly. Basically I just love everybody that's a part of this school, so thank you all. It seems like only days ago I was at the Freshman college night, listening to the drone of what seemed to be dozens of speakers tell me that my four years in high school would fly by, and I would be college bound in the blink of an eye. I had a hard time believing them, but it was true! Even though my experience may not have been the most enjoyable at times, I have realized that I appreciate every moment of my time at MBA.

Memories: MBHOH; China; New Zealand rabbit hunting; Lindisfarne; cross country; BRANDY!; canoeing; fishing; Duck Key; Key West; fireworks; soup kitchen; Kanakuk; Lanier; wei; brofest; plays; the deck; stogies; JH Ranch; NA!; camping; the flood; dirt bikes on the beach; Gainesville, Georgia; "I think she's getting fat"; DGroups; Mumford; Justin; shooting stuff; firecrackers on the boat; Appalachian Trail; squirrel shooting at the Bellet's; Honduras; Cadence; Books for Belize... and many more!

I wouldn't have been able to have as good of a time at MBA as I did if it weren't for my family, friends, and teachers that invested in my life everyday. Thank you Mrs. Warner, Mrs. Maddux, Dr. Dickens, Capt. Norton, Mrs. Li, and everybody else! I admire each and every one of you. Thank you Mom, Dad and Catherine - I love you so much. And I wouldn't have been able to make it through MBA without my Lord and Savior Jesus Christ!

In all honesty, there have been way too many funny moments and inside jokes throughout my six years at MBA to remember and post in one tiny little yearbook blurb. I take comfort in that, however, because it only proves that I've had an amazing time with my amazing friends, and that no matter how many crazy shenanigans we get into we always walk away with good memories. Noah, Rob, Preston, John, Hoke, Scott, Aaron, Vaughn, and the rest of you crazy kids - here's to more laughs than we can count and to hoping we have even more in the future. Some highlights: Dr. Marro song; Mothers, lock up your daughters... Alex Fardon is on the town; Coach Sherwood, I can't be at practice tomorrow, Jamie, you're rooming with Will. "Forever?" DILLARDS, HOKE; Yes, Jennifer Love Hewitt is set to star; wht iz fzx? It is not his job to teach; ODK HO; "Mr. Deutsch, Tanner is on crack;" I am your conquistador; I'll be your Damon Wayans, I'll be your Marlon Wayans... I can go which ever Wayans you want; "You're doing great, Ham!" *gives thumbs up to the bass amp*; Lollapalooza with Noah; "Let's play twenty questions," "Is it Leonardo Dicaprio?" "HOW DID YOU KNOW?!" Wait, for some reason I keep forgetting who started Endada; The Chicken Festival; "Well I went to MBA and I turned out pretty well, right?" I Need A Peppermint, The District, Otis!, The Shambles, Slumberjacks; Ham can't practice because he's in the zone; Screw you, Caleb Followill; Wangulgoo Nannagoosgus; We played in a kitchen; And it was at that precise moment that Ryland realized that he was the class idiot; First night of senior year winter break; Shut up, Barry; Israel trip; Harold, I'm sorry I left you hanging in the Chick-Fil-A bathroom and I'm sorry for when Logan broke all of the glass jugs at your lakehouse; Preston experienced the teeth first hand; Noah and I going to Chub for their Monday night special; 8th grade class trip - is Hagar eating an entire chicken on the bus? Parking lot with Gardens & Villa; My car still smells like pineapple; pre-show SATCO; Local Taco fish tacos; John john john john john and Ann; on top of the parking garage; Freshman year Zeitgeist dancing with Noah to How I Became the Bomb; Sophomore year Zeitgeist playing to twenty people; Junior year Zeitgeist playing to 200 people; Senior year Zeitgeist co-headlining; Plan to stay out all night on the beach, go back to the house at like midnight; Jimmy Hall shows; playing the Exit/In while still in high school. Michael Kosson

Shall I compare thee
to a summer's day?
Thou art more lovely
and more temperate.
Rough winds do shake
the darling buds of May,
And summer's lease
hath all too short a date.

Sometime too hot the eye of heaven shines,
And often is his gold
complexion dimm'd;
And every fair from
fair sometime declines,
By chance or nature's changing course
untrimm'd;

But thy eternal
summer shall not fade
Nor lose possession of
that fair thou ow'st;
Nor shall Death brag thou wander'st in his shade,

When in eternal lines
to time thou grow'st:
So long as men can breathe or eyes can see,

So long lives this, and this gives life to thee.

Warren Lipscomb

Memories.. Some I wish to forget, others I wish to relive, but undeniably, these past four years have been a blast. It goes by quicker and quicker every year, but I'll never forget some of them. First day walking into Mrs. Roberts homeroom, life lessons with Coach Cooper, "Bradshaw take a big one", junior high mixers, year of .02 "deuce lipscomb", rain lilly family, Dr. Cassel's valiant effort to control senior class of '09 or perhaps just that senior class in general, "rails broke", peppers in Spiegl, Thomas Forcum showing up to class on theme day 40 minutes late with no theme, mr. Kelly's class, "mouthbrush", Kelly's speeches in 8th grade speech, swine flu, falling through the floor at homecoming, 'homeland', gingerbread houses in jmacs car, operation rolling thunder, cones, Halloween: blades of glory, free fallin', fca praise band, bongo scott, 'Mrs. Lipscomb, do you have anymore fish fillets?', tosh and the gang, gabby..., 'movie day, movie day' - Lester, scooby doo and the gang, H2O, spring break '11, and music theory "we care".

To sum it up, even though my time to walk amongst the great here at Montgomery Bell is rapidly coming to a close, I hold with me the keys to success... Not because I am so enlightened as to receive them myself, but because I have been given the chance to go to a school that does nothing but specialize in preparing the heck out of young men for what is to come.. Maybe it is the wealth of knowledge this place has given me that enables me to think in such a way or maybe even the strength to endure, but perhaps it's more the feeling I get when I look at all of the tradition these hallowed halls hold within... I am part of a legacy of excellence that I will always remember and embrace forever. Sure, it's been hard and sometimes disappointing, the things I've seen, but the experience, I know is one that will keep on giving for many years after I am gone, and the lessons I've learned will always guide me, and the friends that I have found, will forever leave an imprint upon my heart. So for that I thank you, MBA.

Thank you to all who have helped me out over the years. To name a few, thank you Mom and Dad. Owen, you paved the way bro. Mr. Tillman, Coach Sanders, Mr. Morrison, Mr. Kelly, Coach Waller, Coach Smyth, Dr. Cassel, Mr. Ardisson, Mr. Reynolds, Mr. Rundberg, Coach K, Coach Rich and the advisory crew, thank you to all! Special shout out to Mark and Brandon. I owe pretty much half of my up bringing to you fine people. Never forget you! And best for last, JESUS! You are my hero and I owe it all to You! All the glory goes to You!

"Therefore, since we are surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses, let us also lay aside every weight, and sin which clings so closely, and let us run with endurance the race that is set before us, looking to Jesus, the founder and perfecter of our faith, who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is seated at the right hand of the throne of God." "Consider Him who endured from sinners such hostility against himself, so that you may not grow weary or lose heart." Hebrews 12:1-3

First off, I would like to thank my parents, Mac and Rhonda, for giving me the opportunity to attend such a great school. It's really been a great experience, and although there has been both failure and triumph, it has been well worth the four years I spent here. Next, thanks to all my teachers, especially Mr. Norton; you really helped me morph into the kid/man I am today. The teachers at this school really have had a great impact on my life and my future. I would also like to thank all my great friends who have been there for me. There are times I can think of where I have no clue how I would have made it through without y'all. Specifically the many Will, Warren, Gray, Preston, Brandon, y'all made it (usually) enjoyable while up on this dang hill. I want to thank Marg, Katie, Jess, Grayson, Meg, Carly, for always being there outside of school, our adventures were and will always be memorable. All my church buds, no bueno is all I got to say. Finally, I want to give a big thank you to God for never giving up on me when it seemed that I had given up on you. You are my everlasting foundation, and I would be so incredibly lost without you. I pray that one day I will be able to love with the same love you have given me, as well as your son's love shown in John 15. MBA, it's truly been a life changing experience, and I would not be who I am today if not for you.

I played football for MBA my entire career on the hill. I was a senior captain during the 2011-2012 season. I played Lacrosse through my freshman year. I wrestled as a microbe. I was a member of the track team my sophomore and junior years.

My time on the Hill was full of ups and downs. Football was a major aspect of my career. From getting sick during my junior season to getting injured my senior season, it was a very difficult ride. The friendships that I have made throughout my time will stay with me forever. The lessons that I have learned from my teachers, coaches, and the field will forever be embedded in me.

I'm proud to say that I was a member of an amazing class at Montgomery Bell Academy. I thank all the people that helped me get through all the difficult times and all the fun times. It was a fun ride that has helped me mature drastically from the moment I arrived.

ROLL RED!

I have nothing but gratitude for Montgomery Bell Academy as an institution and for all those who supported me and influenced my time here. I feel lucky to have been taught by some of the finest teachers in the nation. Ms. Anderson, Dr. Dickens, Coach Golenor, Mr. Hamrick, Mr. Kelly, Mr. Lester, Mr. Paolicchi and Dr. Shackleford were the teachers who made the most profound impacts on my learning experience. I have come to have great respect for their commitment to teaching, attention to detail, and willingness to listen. I must also give a huge thank you to my advisor, Mrs. Warner. Her daily kindness and work on my behalf have been greatly appreciated. I have made some of the best friends a guy could have. Will, Warren, Jmac, we've had some of the greatest times together. The memories we made like Spring Break 2011, Gatlinburg, FCA, and Sanctuary will be with me forever. I hope we stay in touch long after we leave this place. Most importantly I need to thank my parents. The sacrifices they have made to send me to this school are incredible. I hope that I have done well with this gift I have been given, and that the invaluable lessons learned here will stay with me forever.

Montgomery Bell Academy has shaped my view of the world and its commitment to well-roundedness has made an impression on me. I found this creed on a glass panel outside the gym dedicating a set of panels entitled "The History of Sports at Montgomery Bell Academy" to the life of Patrick S. Hale. I feel that this statement establishes a worthy goal of how we should live our lives after we leave the halls of MBA.

"Just for Today" (Author Unknown)

I will try to live through this day only, and not tackle my whole life problem at once.
Just for today I will be happy. I will assume to be true what Abraham Lincoln said: "Most folks are as happy as the make up their minds to be."
Just for today I will strengthen my mind. I will study. I will learn something useful. I will read something that requires thought and concentration.

Just for today I will adjust myself to what is, and not try to adjust everything to my own desires.
Just for today I will exercise my soul in three ways:

I will do somebody a good turn and not get found out.

I will do at least two things I don't want to do... just for exercise.

I will not show anyone that my feelings are hurt, they may be hurt, but today I will not show it.

O Lord, thou knowest how I live;

All I've done amiss, forgive;

All of good I've tried to do,

Strengthen, bless, and carry through

All I Love in safety keep -

While in thee, I fall asleep.

Thank you everyone for making my six years at MBA awesome. I specially want to thank my parents. Mom and dad thanks for being there for me through the ups and downs my whole life. Y'all are the best parents a kid can ask for. Tripp, even though were always butting heads and never taking anything serious between us, you're the best brother anyone could have. Lastly to my bros, the class of 2012, y'all are great and I am glad to have spent 6 years with y'all. It was a great ride and I will miss everything. ROLL RED.

Joseph Robinson

I thought I saw a man brought to life
 He was warm - he came around like
 He was dignified
 He showed me what it was to cry
 Well you couldn't be that man I adored
 You don't seem to know - don't seem to care
 What your heart is for
 No I don't know him anymore

There's nothin' where we used to lie
 Conversation has run dry
 That's what's going on Nothing's fine

I'm torn
 I'm all out of faith
 This is how I feel
 I'm cold and I am chained
 Lying naked on the floor
 Illusion never changed
 Into something real I'm cold and I am shamed and bound
 And broken on the floor
 And I can see the perfect sky is torn
 You're a little late
 I'm already torn

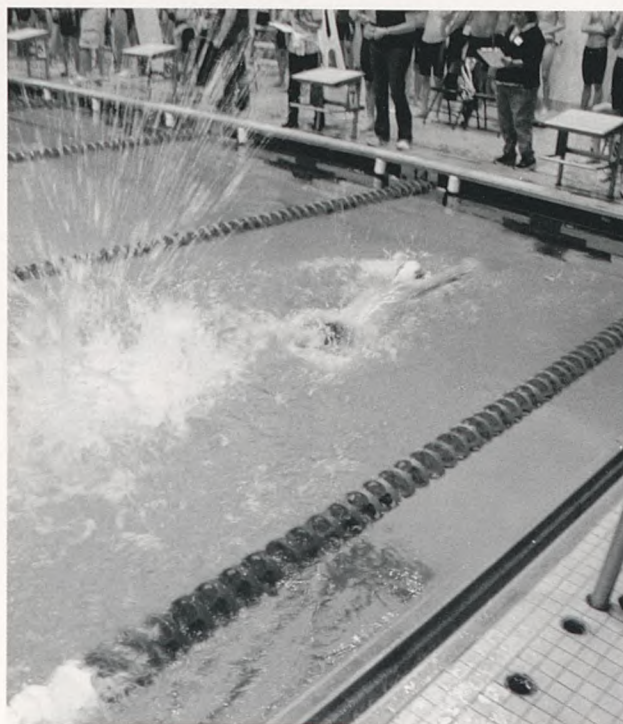

So I guess the fortune teller's right
 I should have seen just what was there
 And not some holy light
 But you crawled beneath my veins
 And now I don't care
 I have no luck
 I don't miss it all that much
 There's just so many things
 That I can't touch

There's nothing where he used to lie
 My conversation has run dry
 That's what is goin' on Nothin's right

I'm torn
 I'm all out of faith
 This is how I feel
 I'm cold and I am shamed
 Lying naked on the floor
 Illusion never changed
 Into something real
 I'm wide awake
 And I can see the perfect sky is torn
 You're a little late
 I'm already torn.

I can't believe it is almost over. Even though these past six years have been very difficult, looking back I truly enjoyed every minute. While on the Hill, I have created life-long relationships with my teachers, coaches, and classmates. I will definitely miss Coach Dobbs demonstrating the correct way to perform the Dolphin Kick, swimming in murky water, and the lifeguards screaming at us for no apparent reason. Swimming has been a large part of my MBA career, having swum since 8th grade. My senior year team consisted of world class swimmers, future Olympians, and a future Navy SEAL (y'all know who you are) which is pretty cool, no, its amazing! These past several years have been fun and I couldn't have imagined myself anywhere else. I must credit MBA for transforming me from a shy and quiet little boy into a confident MAN.

Mom and Dad, thank you so much for sending me to such an amazing school! I know I've kvetched about how much work I always have, but I wouldn't have wanted any other way. I don't know if you can comprehend how grateful I am for having sent me to MBA. Josh, keep up the good work and try not to double my GPA.

Roll Red.

A few things I did: Science Olympiad; Rifle; Math Competitions; Riddler's Club; Quizbusters; Totomoi; Cum Laude; Bell Ringer; Astronomy Club; Science Research. On to the good part...

The Labyrinth and the Distortion Corridor, ye old forest path, and the gorge (watch out for the FUMES!). Holy wars with the Bellets (the pencil bow of doom and Kami Hami Sweater throw). Rapping to pneumonoultramicroscopicsilicovolcanoconiosis and HOW MANY TIMES MUST I SAY, DON'T BE SO LOUD!!! Conartist.info. Musical educamacation. The mosquito minions. The cult of Huntre Woolwine, Spacepimp, and the Duff of Shudpuffin. I WASH MYSELF WITH A RAG ON A STICK, clacclacclac. Guyz, come on. I'm doing the signs!!!! Gonorrhea, I SAID IT. Tunnel Snakes Rule. Shopkeep. Ow, ow, ow, ow *palmdrop*. Late nights with Moderator, watching MST3K, Amnesia, and so so much diet Coke. It's been great knowing you guys (you know who you are).

I like...fish...and forceps. Being an honorary member of the debate cult. Pulling off some Quizbusting shenanigans with Teek, Casper, and Manchu - quizzical looks, screwing over the whole team by not choosing economics, having favorite subjects suspiciously similar to the enemy. Anteeeking.tumblr.com. Oh yeah, guess who else wore pants? You guys are the cleverest little curmudgeons I know.

John Butz and cat poop. I'd say we did better than we usually do, and we didn't even have to use divine intervention on our mages. And don't worry, I don't make mistakes. Hearing COUSIN JOE!! from any one of you on campus always brightened my day.

I've had quite a run on the rifle team for five years - thanks to everyone I've gotten to know, putting up with my tyrannical power-mad captainship, and especially Hunter and Matt my Taco Bell homies.

And of course, being a research room troll with Bowman. It's been great building things with you and yelling continually at underclassmen.

All in all, everything here on the hill (did you know it has the lowest ambient light in the southeast?) went better than expected. And to all my past teachers - thanks for making this place awesome.

Oh yeah, and one last thing. Nothing.

It's been six whole years? It felt like twenty to be honest. Middle school was a meat grinder but the ones who made it through were bound in a common experience. The teachers played a big role in everyone's lives, but my friends and family were the biggest in mine. Freshman and sophomore years were tough, but thanks to them I made it mostly unscathed. It was the ones who did the little things who made the largest impact. You're lying to yourself if you thought it was an easy ride on the hill; everybody needed everybody else to survive. In a way it was a daily battle not to snap at the enormous amount of work. I'll thank my parents for being the most constant support, and to everyone else who I can't fit in this paragraph, keep it real next year. Come find me at UGA and we'll have a big time.

I'm not a perfect person
There are many things I wish I didn't do
But I continue learning
I never meant to do those things to you
And so I have to say before I go
That I just want you to know

I've found a reason for me
To change who I used to
be
A reason to start over new
and the reason is you

I'm sorry that I hurt you It's something I must live with everyday
And all the pain I put you through
I wish that I could take it
all away
And be the one who catches all your tears
That's why I need you to hear

I've found a reason for me
To change who I used to
be
A reason to start over new
and the reason is You

and the reason is You.

To Dr. Marro, thank you for being my advisor five out of my six years at MBA. There's no one I would've rather had introduce me to the school and no one I would've rather had guide me through it. To Wade Cowan, every winter for these last four years Mock Trial practice was the best part of my day. You were an amazing mentor and I'll never be able to thank you enough for the massive amounts of work you put into this team.

To Aaron Lutkowitz, you were actually one of the best teachers I've ever had and you singlehandedly taught me more about how to speak well and perform under pressure than anyone else.

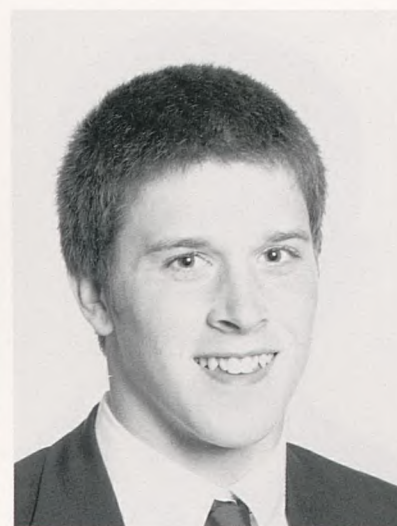

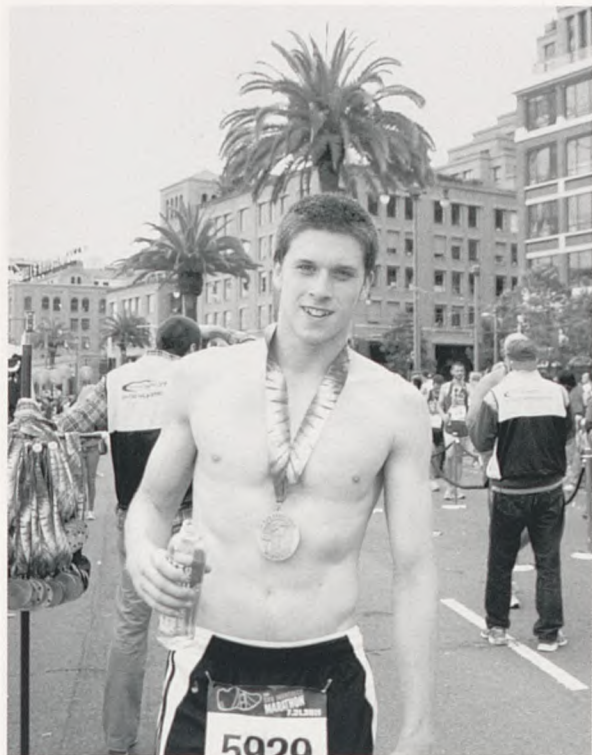

To Mr. Gaither, Dr. Seay, and Dr. Gaffney, you made my language classes one of the most enjoyable parts of the school day over these past years.

To all the debaters and my friends, you guys have made me love high school.

Thank you for all the great times.

I will always remember my time on the hill from the friendships that I have made to the life lessons that I have learned. It has been an experience I will never forget. Thanks to everyone at MBA. I could not have done it without you. To my teachers and coaches, your guidance and leadership has made me the man I am today. Mom and Dad, thank you for all the time and effort you have devoted. I could never thank you enough. Shayne and Sam, thanks for being there for me. To all my friends, we made memories that will last a life time. Roll Red.

Will Sullivan

Throughout my time on the hill I have made some great memories through everything that I have done and everyone that I have met. I have gone through some tough transitions, the toughest being the decision to switch positions in football. In just one short year I went from being the back up kicker to being in the hunt for starting on the offensive line. I couldn't have asked for much more than being able to be coached by one of the best linemen from the NFL. Even though my time as a lineman was cut drastically short because of a shoulder injury, I never stopped looking forward, much to the help of coach Barclay. Coach Barclay really helped me come into my own on the track team, being able to coach me from just being that sophomore over there to being one of the major components of the fat guys.

Whether we were hanging out at the church, Le Peep, or Harry's basement I was always having a great time. Somehow I ended up being the guy with a thousand nick names, but truly known as the one and only Sheamus. I am very glad that I was never caught meandering around with Jim, and I'm also very happy with the great creation of Keybuds with Joe.

My family has been great for me. All the Sunday night dinners with cousins who are more like brothers and sisters. Going to countless basketball and football games with one of my best friends, and looking up in the stands at all my games to see him there cheering me on. Two incredible sisters that are always there to cheer me up with all of our subtle inside jokes. And my mother who is more like a friend who is always with me to help me get through all the tough times, no matter how meaningless they are. I am truly going to miss all of you next year. bleh.

Soup Kitchen (9-10), JV Golf (9), Ultimate Frisbee (10-12), First Presbyterian Youth Group (7-12), Cum Laude Society (11-12), FCA (10-12), Student Council (9-10).

Over my six years at MBA, I have made many memories here. And of course they are funny. In 7th grade, I learned in Coach Wims' class how to write quickly. 8th grade was composed of Michael Grief constantly saying "Yes ma'am or no sir" and egabrag nib (game during Coach Russ's advisory). Also those first two years were the most awkward years of my life, and I never want to relive them. The last four years were by far the best. Coach K taught me how to teach a book in The Odyssey as well as how to write eloquently, and in Mr. Deutsch's class, we were among friends. 10th grade went a little over my head because of the research paper, but I learned in Mr. Moxley's class the guide to reading poetry and wooing women. My life hasn't been the same since. Mr. Rundberg's advisory is always a good start to my day where I have heard many stories about the Rundberg School and how high school should really be like the NBA All-Star Game. Going to France was an experience that I will never forget. 11th grade was composed of Mr. Jones' "Well hey, Mr. Hitler, you can take the Sudetenland" and my fault in Dr. Kinch's class getting banana bread instead of puppy chow during Spirit Week. Made a measurement in Physics called the Weston (WWW) that's about 15.5 meters. I will always remember talking to Coach Lanier about soccer and eighty-eleven. Wentao always being late to Latin IIIB because traffic was bad. Hosting exchange students was quite interesting especially when one proposed to a Sorority girl at Vanderbilt on Prom. Winchester Exchange was life-changing and going to London on exeat. I will never forget Dr. Gaffney's "It's like teaching..." moments because it made me realize that sometimes we are disabled kindergartners or open mayonnaise jars. Three excellent years in C23. I never stop learning in Mr. Hamrick's class where sometimes I see pictures of myself that I never knew existed. I have learned so much in Coach Golenor's class where we sometimes do some "KenKenage" and "gotta chain that bad boy."

Thank you to all my teachers. Mme O'Connell for helping me find where I wanted to go to college. Mrs. Palmore for helping me with my college essay. Mme O'Connell and Dr. Kinch for writing excellent recs. MANDY, Anderson, Davies, Warren, Weeessston, JMac, Gray, and Preston for dealing with me for the past 3-4 years. I want to thank my mom and dad because sometimes I was an absolute pain to deal with, and also I feel like I don't get to thank them enough. I hopefully will never forget these memories I made here.

Winn Van Cleave

My opinion about MBA has drastically changed over my time spent here on The Hill. When I first started my career here in 7th grade, like most of my classmates, I was excited to be a part of the well-known MBA community. Through the years though my attitude shifted back and forth. At times I felt as if I would rather be going to any other school in the world (I would be lying if I said that I was the only MBA student that had felt this way at one point or another), but then it all would change like the tide and all would be forgotten and I would move on to the next stage. And looking back, I'm able to see all the things that we as a class have gone through. There have been good times, and there have been bad times, but in the end, we have stuck through it all and come out all right, and maybe a little more wise for the ware. In retrospect, I wouldn't trade any of those bad times for anything because I feel as if it was the bad times that ended up bringing us closer together as a class. Our lives will drastically change from this point on, that is a fact, but you can bet that the relationships we have all formed with each other will never change, no matter what. Congratulations Class of 2012, and GOOD LUCK! '07 Spaghetti Supper leftovers for lunch on April 9, 2012; Coach Mawae's various Twitter references; Baker's banana bread in Dr. Kinch's class; Coach Lanier's silent days; Driver's Ed "Down Syndrome Danny"; Guy1: What's for lunch? It took me a few years to realize how MBA has changed my life. All of the stress that we all know is a necessary means to an amazing end. Through MBA, I have done service work all over Nashville, performed at three different schools, experienced a state championship from the sidelines, faced the torment of a rigorous workload, and, as a result, come to truly understand the motto. For me, those words are not a saying but instead a personal goal.

My time at MBA could not have happened without a ridiculous amount of support. First of all, I would like to thank all of my teachers. The academic growth I have undergone while at MBA is a direct result of remarkable teaching. Coach Klausner taught me how to write, Mrs. Holmgren fostered my love of Biology, and Dr. Boyd showed me more Monty Python videos than I could dream of. Secondly, I would like to thank my "support staff." Dr. Fuller, you have taught me and directed me both in theatre and in service. You truly shaped my experience at MBA. Mrs. Williams, during our short time working together for Race For The Cure you became one of my favorite people. You are always interested in my life and that means a lot. Coach K, you taught me how to write and got me into the school of my dreams, no amount of words can express my gratitude. Also, thanks to the thespians at MBA, HH, and SCA. Finally, my family has been unbelievable. Mom and Dad, thanks for all the sacrifices you made for me, it means so much. Ellie, you have always been my inspiration and my best friend.

I cannot possibly get to everyone so let me just say, Thanks y'all!

Academics

Academics, being at the core of the MBA experience, are the most important thing we do on a daily basis at school. Sure, the MBA curriculum can be exhausting, impossible, and extremely stressful at times, but it is often rewarding in innumerable ways. The iconic keystone of the MBA education is the theme, which every high school student writes and turns in on the same day each month. However, the academic curriculum is now expanding beyond the classroom. With a new observatory at MBA's Long Mountain property and increasing use of educational resources around Nashville, such as the Frist Museum, students are continuing to get an authentic education with a greater perspective from outside the classroom. Competitions are also a key part of the academic life at MBA with the multitudes of trams from MathCounts to Science Olympiad, MBA students have a passion to compete rigorously when it comes to their studies. It would be a fallacy to omit something about the excellent faculty that the school fields each year. The faculty at MBA is extraordinary and unlike any other in the Nashville area or even the state. With 76 percent holding advanced degrees and 16 doctorates on campus, a student doesn't have to go far to get information outside of class or to simply get an exceptional education. The pursuit of excellence is what makes MBA students unique and it is not only the pursuit of one task, but many that makes them successful. Roll Red.

The MBA high school Science Olympiad team won its third straight state championship on April 14th at the University of Tennessee, finishing ahead of 17 other teams including state rivals White Station, Harpeth Hall, MLK, and Oak Ridge to advance to the National Tournament at the University of Central Florida in May. Team leadership was provided by seniors Myles Anderson, David Arteaga, Weston Bell, Zach Chen, and Joe Scherrer. This is the team's fourth state championship in the last six years. The team won medals in 16 of the 23 events, including 5 state championships, 3 second place finishes, 3 third place finishes, and 5 more 4th through 6th place finishes.

State Championships - David Arteaga and Tom Bu (Anatomy & Physiology), Joe Scherrer and Adam Bowman (Astronomy), Hunter Tidwell and Adam Bowman (Fermi Questions), Chris Habermann and Tom Bu (Optics), and Joe Scherrer and Chris Habermann (Technical Problem Solving). State 2nd place - David Arteaga and Zach Chen (Chem Lab), Sam Hurd and Hamilton Millwee (Helicopters), and Myles Anderson and Zach Chen (Microbe Mission). State 3rd place - Zach Chen and Colin Caldwell (Dynamic Planet), Sam Hurd and Colin Caldwell (Tower Building), and Adam Bowman, Hunter Tidwell, and Chris Habermann (Experimental Design).

After an impressive 3-peat as the Tennessee Science Olympiad State Champions, the MBA Science Olympiad team journeyed to the University of Central Florida in Orlando to test their mettle in the 2012 Science Olympiad National Tournament. The team improved on their performance from last year's national tournament with a 36th place overall finish out of nearly 6400 teams nationally.

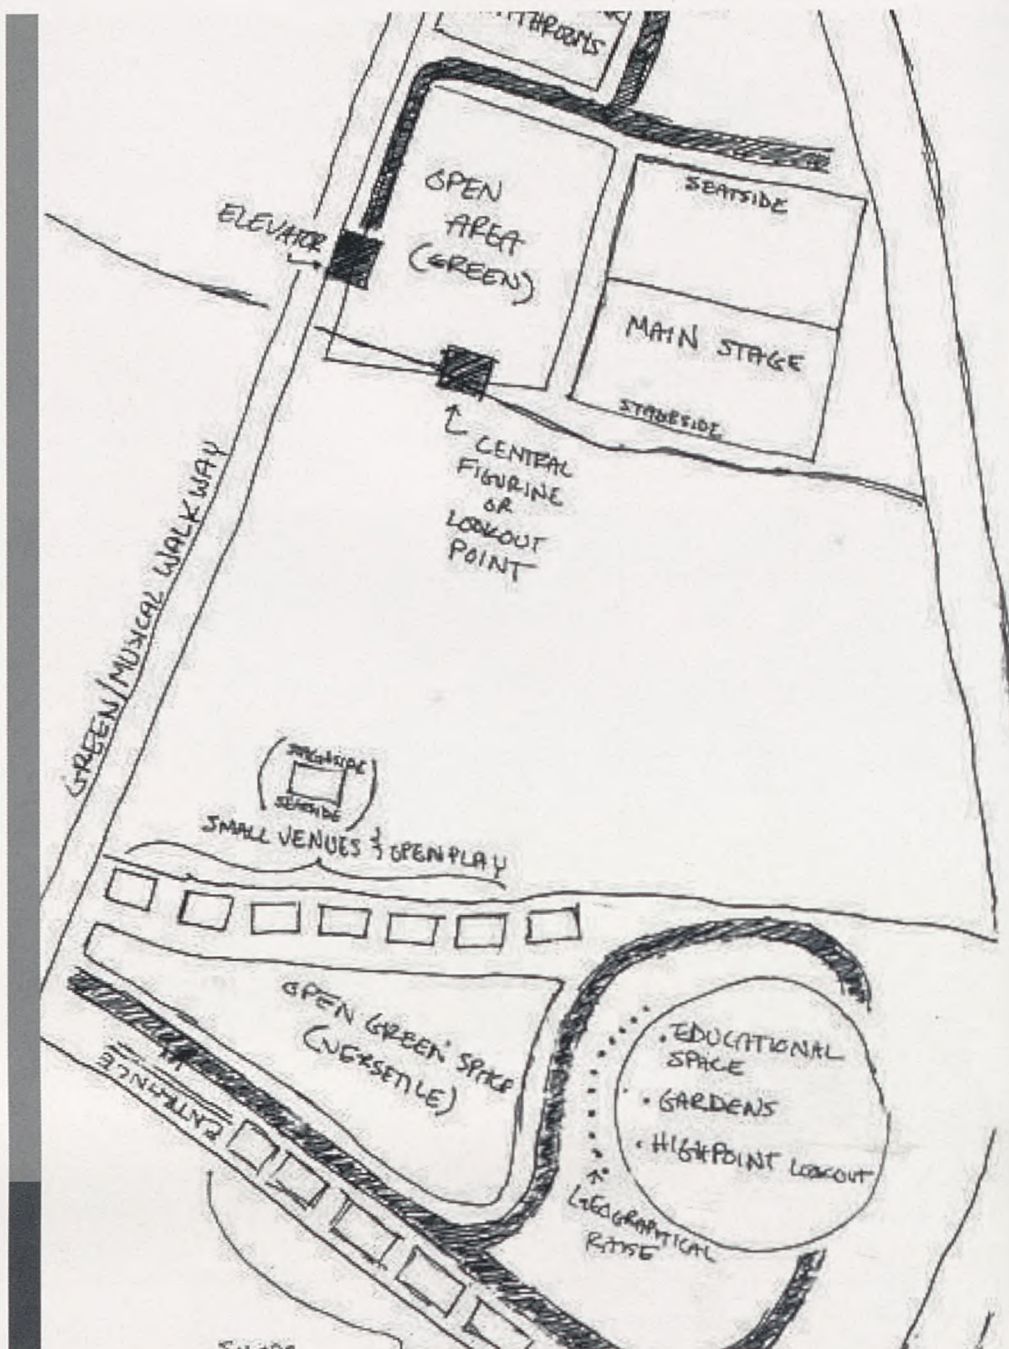

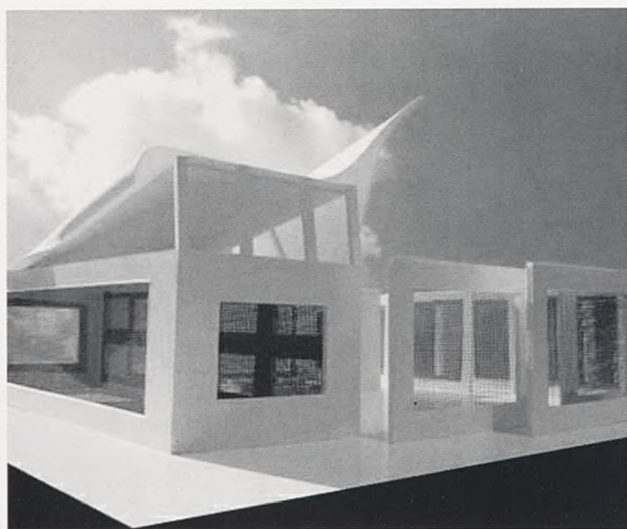

The team was led by seniors Weston Bell, Zach Chen, Joe Scherrer, and Karthik Sastry. The Big Red captured top-25 finishes in 5 events (Thermodynamics, Helicopters, Fermi Questions, Technical Problem Solving, Water Quality), including an 8th place finish by Joe Scherrer and Chris Habermann in Thermodynamics. Individually, three team members stood out for their excellence in placing two of their events in this top-25 list: senior Joe Scherrer, junior Hunter Tidwell, and sophomore Sam Hurd. The future looks bright with such strong performances by team members at all grade levels.

Science Olympiad is entirely a team effort with 15 team members competing in pairs in 23 events help throughout a very long day of competition. Adding to the solid efforts of those individuals listed previously were team members Tom Bu, Colin Caldwell, Hamilton Millwee, Kevin Wang, Henry Ingram, Thomas Marosz, Michael Milam, and Matt Miccioli and team alternates (our team future!) Harry Stewart and John Triplett.

ACE: Architecture, Construction, Engineering

The 2011-2012 MBA / Father Ryan ACE team finished fourth nationally out of thirty-nine submissions. The team barely missed the opportunity to compete nationally in Washington, DC. though this is the best the team has ever done as the first runner up in the Waterfront / Riverside Park Challenge. The team was led by Junior Galen Bullington and coached by Mr. Chris Bullington and Mr. David Deutsch.

Envirothon

The 2012 Envirothon team enjoyed much success at both the Regional and State tournaments. After sweeping first and second place at Regionals in Lebanon with one of the highest scores in the tournament's history, the team spent three days in Crossville, TN at the State competition. Though, the team did not win the competition, they had perfect scores in aquatics, and did very well in forestry, wildlife, and the special problem. Coached by Mr. Bullington and Mr. Spiegl, the team was led by Seniors Gray Jones, Weston Bell, Augie Houghton, and Rett Hooper. The seniors, along with Ferris Bailey, made up the state team. Next year is even more promising as Juniors Hamilton Milwee, Jake Macey, Tom Bu, John Mellow, and Galen Bullington take the reins.

QuizBusters

The Roll Red Scholars currently competes in just a few competitions each year, but has done remarkably well thus far. In the Fall, we entered 4 teams in the Ezell-Harding National Invitational. Out of 36 schools (48 teams) two MBA teams reached the playoff round and one made it to the octo-finals for the first time in our short history! Both our HS and JS teams participated in the Fall edition of the Knowledge Master Open. Our HS team finished 3rd in the state and 66th of 576 schools from across the globe. Their score of 1476 placed them behind perennial power-houses USN and Hume-Fogg and ahead of Christian Brothers, Webb, Centennial, and FRA to name a few (16 teams total), to the 2012 National Academic Championship. Our Fall season ended with a victory over Merrol Hyde in the CW58/Westfield Insurance QuizBusters competition, qualifying us for the playoffs. The RRS teams enjoyed continued success in the Spring. The team continued to advance with a 510 to 220 victory over Mt. Juliet before succumbing to the eventual champions USN in the semi-finals and taking home $1500 for third place. The Spring KMO competitions brought in similar results. The HS team took 3rd in the state, ranking 32 out of 518 teams internationally. A spartan JS team still managed to place 2nd in the state on the Vernal edition of the KMO and 112 out of 565 teams.

The MBA Mathcounts team won it's seventh state championship, led by high scorers Tony Ding, Tony Huang, Alvin Zhang, and Cole Campbell, who swept the top four spots in the State of Tennessee. MBA became the sole school to represent the state of Tennessee at the national competition, a first in Tennessee history. From May 10 to 13, four Mathcounts students along with coaches Maggie Qian and Matt Golenor went to Orlando, Florida to attend the National Mathcounts competition.

Debate

MBA Minds at Work

The Debate and Forensic Program at MBA is one of the oldest and most well respected programs in the nation. Tournament travel offers MBA students the chance to meet and interact with students from other schools all over the country.

Learning how to handle problems as they occur offers students valuable life lessons that they enjoy. The competitive challenges and close cooperation with teammates keep our students excited and active.

MBA debate is guided by four full time teachers and coaches, and three MBA debate coaches have earned Keys to the Barkley Forum in Atlanta, the nation's foremost honorary society for high school debate coaches. The program's director is Mr. Billy Tate. The Policy debate coaches are Mr. Kevin Hamrick and Mr. Robbie Quinn. MBA's public debate program is coached by Mr. Samuel Lester.

The goal of Extemporaneous Speaking is to answer questions. But what has made this activity particularly stimulating for me is not just answering questions, but, whether in competitive rounds or in spare moments with friends, asking them. What is a responsible role the U.S. can play in managing conflict around the world? How does the distribution of resources in our healthcare system affect global disparities? What is the best way to achieve a clean energy future? The world is full of problems and dilemmas for which there are no clear answers—Extemporaneous Speaking has given me a window through which to view these issues as a high school student and sparked a personal interest in analyzing global policy.

I joined MBA Debate as a freshman on my very first day on the Hill, and have not looked back since. Being a part of such a historic program and having the opportunity to work with such excellent coaches has allowed me to compete consistently on the national level. Moreover, I have enjoyed the camaraderie of the team and the opportunity I have had the past two years to mentor younger members. Participating in Debate has given me skills, perspectives, and memories that have shaped my time at MBA. - Karthik Sastry, Class of 2012

-Myles Anderson, Class of 2012, on Winning the Tour de Pants.

Another successful Cross Country season was led by Head Coach Roderick Russ. After losing 5 varsity runners, the team managed to achieve a third place finish at the state cross country meet. Prior to state, however, the team traveled to Louisville, Bowling Green, and Birmingham to compete in numerous invitationals. In Bowling Green at the Gatorland Invitational, the Big Red Harriers took home gold as a team. At the Southeast Showdown in Birmingham, the team fell just four points short of a victory and had to settle for a commendable second place. The team easily won the District and Metro Championships. With such a young team, all were proud and content with the third place finish at state, although there was some bitterness due to the failed attempt at a third consecutive state title.

Individually, the team competed very well. With one of the deepest rosters in MBA cross country history, spots on the varsity squad were hard to come by. The team was led by Captain Daniel Peters, who took home the individual title, and was named Gatorade's Runner of the Year for Tennessee after his seventh place finish at Nike's southeast region meet. Eric Anderson, merely a sophomore, finished third at the state meet and consistently placed in the top five at invitationals. Alex Smith raced well after being sick for a large portion of the season. David Arteaga and Myles Anderson, Seniors, were also key contributors to the Big Red's success.

The team bonded over the course of the season through traditions such as Cross Country Camp at Sewanee University and the Tour de Pants in Nashville. At camp the Big Red enjoyed a wonderful three days filled with gallon challenges, volleyball matches, and, of course, running. Scott Dalton won biggest bro award from camp. Myles Anderson claimed the Pants in the Tour de Pants after clenching a close victory in a Frisbee match that concluded the week filled with challenges. # Big Red Football

A New Era

In the first season under the new leadership of Coach Marty Euverard, the MBA football program enjoyed ample amounts of success with victories over region foes Father Ryan, continuing the streak of 17 straight wins over the Irish, McCallie, and Pope John Paul II as well as a Homecoming victory over Pearl Cohn and a playoff victory over Briarcrest Christian. Facing a gauntlet of a schedule in the first half of the season, the Big Red came together down the stretch winning five out of their last seven games finishing with a record of 6-6; in addition, the Big Red had six players receive All-Region distinction, Jamie Bradshaw, James Kay, John Morphis, John Powell, Jay Robertson, and Jhamall Wright. The 2011 Big Red Football team gave the MBA Family a lot to be proud of this year.

Golf

The 2011 MBA golf team had a very up and down season fueled by many successes. The Big Red was led by Seniors Roe Moore, Austin Doebler, Will Peffen, and Brandon Sauermann. The season began with a silver finish at the Tullahoma Invitational and a face-off with Ensworth at the Ryder Cup Style Match, where MBA was victorious. Highlights of the match include victories by Roe Moore and Cal Fisher with Roe's forty-five foot eagle on the seventeenth hole. Later in the season, the Big Red teamed up with Ensworth to combat a strong Briarcrest team in the a Ryder Cup Match. The Big Red was led to victory by Austin Doebler's hole-in-one and Will Peffen's miraculous comeback on the back nine to with his match. Cal Fisher also dominated his match with five birdies, finishing well under par. Just before regionals, the Big Red went toe-to-toe with Brentwood Academy at Richland Country Club and pulled out a big twenty-one point win over the Eagles. The highlight of the match was Roe Moore's hole-in-one on hole two to lead the Big Red to victory. The team finished the regular season with a record of 4-4 along with some great tournament finishes. Though the team fell short at Regionals by placing just short of the state qualifiers, Brandon Sauermann shot a seventy-nine, earning a spot as an individual at state. The fall of 2012 promises a successful season led by senior Bevan Petrikin and Junior Cal Fisher.

The 2011-2012 Big Red Rifle Team enjoyed a perfect season (14 -0) in the new state-of-the-art Rifle Complex by placing 1st, 2nd, 4th and 7th overall on April 13th and 14th. Special recognition goes to All-State team members Tim Bulso, Joe Scherrer, Hunter Tidwell, Connor Yakushi as well as to Stephens Leadership Award recipient Joe Scherrer. Seniors Tim Bulso, Adam Hawiger, Jonathan Reilly, Captain Joe Scherrer and Connor Yakushi provided vital encouragement and leadership throughout the season. MBA's 2011-2012 varsity basketball finished with a 17-10 record against one of the program's most challenging schedules in many years. The team was anchored by seniors, captains, and four year lettermen Austin Blackwell, David Howard, and Aaron Simonis. Beyond that nucleus, however, the Big Red was inexperienced and relied upon a number of underclassmen to contribute. The team had many great moments during the year, and only a close loss on the road in the state quarterfinals to eventual State Runner-up Briarcrest prevented the Big Red from making their third consecutive final four appearance.

MBA kicked off the 2011-2012 season with a resounding victory on the road against DII-A favorite FRA. A week later in a great atmosphere in Currey Gym, the Big Red took nationally ranked Christ School from Asheville, NC, to the wire before losing by 4. Other highlights included a memorable overtime victory over Stone Memorial (AA state tournament team) on its way to a runner-up finish in the Super 16 Holiday tournament in Knoxville, the oldest running holiday tournament in the state. Region Sweeps over BGA, JPIL, and traditional rival Father Ryan, and victories over local rivals Hillsboro, Hillwood, and Overton highlighted the tough region schedule and the second half of the season.

There were a number of individual recognitions throughout the year. David Howard, now signed to the University of Evansville, was the team's leading scorer and was named to the All Region team, as well as being chosen as a finalist for Mr. Basketball in DII-AA. Austin Blackwell was also named to the All Region team, as well as the All-Tournament team at the Super 16. Both Howard and Blackwell joined the 1000 pt club during their senior season. In addition to Howard and Blackwell, Kamani Hodges was also named to the All-Tournament team at the Super 16.

The 2011 - 2012 season marked the thirteenth consecutive season the Big Red has participated in high school varsity bowling. MBA finished the season with an overall record of 191 wins and 63 losses over thirteen years of competition. The team achieved a season record of 18 - 07 during a year that saw the 2011-2012 MBA team rebound from a lackluster 2010-2011 campaign to return to prominence in the state tournament. The "return to glory" season ended in late January with a loss to the eventual state champion, St. Benedict Academy from Memphis, but this year's group of athletes worked extremely hard to make MBA a bowling powerhouse again.

The 2011-2012 team was comprised of only 4 returning letterman, but some determined in school recruiting brought in 8 additional talented bowlers. Senior captain Trent Holbrook, a star on the 2010-2011 team, returned to the starting line-up joined by the other returning veterans, sophomore Nilay Patel and juniors Nick Green and Lucas Fortune. These athletes were joined in the line-up by seniors Will Peffen, Jon McClelland, and Austin Doeblen. All three are first year bowlers, but they are experienced alley dogs, who contributed immensely to the team's success. The team chemistry was remarkable with senior Greylon Gawaluck, juniors Jack Bond and Jake Macey, sophomores Clark Hooks and Chase Duffy all coming off the bench to win critical games in some very competitive matches.

The squad began its season on September 28, and earned four straight wins before falling in a close match to last year's state champion, BGA. The team surged after that loss and finished the regular season with a 15-5 record (14-4 in division 2), sweeping the season series against Ensworth, JP2, Ezzell-Harding, USN, Brentwood Academy, and Franklin Road Academy. The team was led by senior captain, Trent Holbrook (180 - season average and third place finisher in the state individual tournament).

Ice Hockey

The Coolest Sport Ice Has Ever Seen

As Coach David Deutsch has put it, the 2011-2012 MBA Ice Hockey team faced a “tremendous amount of adversity.” After losing 9 seniors from the previous season, it would be a lie to say that the team didn’t have a major disadvantage over most other programs in the Nashville area from the first puck drop. Despite these odds, the team had some notable highlights and came together to fearlessly challenge teams far beyond the Big Red’s skill set. The team had an overall less than impressive record, but had two significant ties over long time division rivals Pope John Paul II. In one of those games, mono-stricken starting goalie Jack Coyle was replaced by long time left-winger Aidan McSharry who, as Logan Standard puts it “played out of his mind.” The team was anchored by captain Scott Dalton and Assistant Captains Logan Standard and Connor Griffin. Tanner Yancy was also a significant contributor and key forward for the Big Red. The Big Red also saw an end to an era as Coach Steve Dalton retired from the coaching staff after 6 years of coaching and Scott Dalton ended the Dalton dynasty culminating in a total of 14 years of Dalton men. Logan Standard also ended an 8 year Standard dynasty, while Jack Coyle continues on what we hope to be an 8 year Coyle dynasty. Hockey is truly a family sport at MBA, but the hockey brotherhood also extends beyond blood relationships. As Tanner Yancy puts it, “we are like a family.”

Swimming and Diving

MBA's record-breaking season

The 2011-2012 varsity team boasted a talented group of swimmers and divers led by our Senior Co-Captains Maclin Davis, Nathan Stinson and Adam Cornett. Behind these senior leaders, our squad put together a memorable season. Dominating our divisional rivals, MBA captured its fifth consecutive division title in so many years. Moving on to our Regional Championship, the Big Red put on another strong performance...winning 8 of 13 events, qualifying 20 boys for the TN State Swimming and Diving Championships and capturing our fifth consecutive Regional Championship. At the Tennessee State Championships, MBA battled against one of the best High School swim teams in the country--Baylor. The boys put up 8 All-American performances, won 7 events, broke 2 State Records with Maclin Davis breaking the National High School Record in the 100 butterfly and erased a 23 point deficit on the final evening to win our second State title in three years.

This year we will say goodbye to an outstanding class of senior leaders: Adam Cornett, Maclin Davis, Alex Haggard, Will Logan, Alex Rotker, Hoke Smith and Nathan Stinson. Their leadership in and out of the pool has been inspirational to their teammates and coaches. Their talent, leadership and commitment to our team will be missed.

Big Red Wrestling

The 2011-2012 Big Red Wrestling Team achieved a great deal of success this year. Led by a core group of seniors, the Big Red Wrestlers placed fifth at State with eleven individual placing in their respected weight classes. Senior John Mark Bellet placed second, senior Daniel Bellet placed third, senior Matthew Davidson placed sixth, senior Kevin Murphy placed third, and senior Cayce Ortale placed third. In addition, junior Morris Eguakun placed fifth, junior Franklin Garstin placed third, junior John Tully placed sixth, sophomore Jay Robertson placed second, freshman Blake Solarek placed sixth, and eighth grader Mark Floyd placed sixth. Big Red Baseball had a solid 2012 season, finishing with a 17-16 overall record. The season opened with a big win against Dickson County and an exciting 7-6 victory over Centennial High School. The team traveled to Phoenix for Spring Break and had some tough losses and big wins in the Arizona National Invitational against teams from Arizona, Texas, and Colorado.

The first anticipated series of the year took place in late March, as Baylor and MBA locked horns in divisional play. Baylor took the first two games 3-1 and 8-4, but the Big Red avoided the sweep by winning the final game 6-5. Winning the series against Chattanooga rival McCallie helped the Big Red finish March on a high note. The team won one game each in the Father Ryan and BGA series. MBA then defeated the local Hunters Lane squad 10-0.

After a winning two-out-of-three games against league foe Brentwood Academy 8-6 and 10-2 to end the regular season, the Big Red entered tournament play against St. Benedict in Memphis. MBA won the first game of the playoffs 6-4, and clinched the series in game two with a 10-9 victory. The following week, MBA lost two games to BGA in the State Quarterfinals to end the tournament run for the Big Red. However, the baseball team had an exciting season for the fans and players, and the Big Red played hard and persevered throughout the year.

Lacrosse

Going into the 2012 season, nobody outside of the lacrosse team knew what they were capable of accomplishing. Many thought it would be a down year with the departure of a talented senior class, but led by the new senior class, including captains Augie Houghton, Henry Richardson and Mattison Hamilton the team had a very successful season. The starting lineup was composed almost entirely of seniors with John Morphis, William Reames, and Hayden Holliman making key contributions. For the first time in many years, the Big Red lacrosse team went undefeated over Spring Break beating the four-time South Carolina state champions and handing Alpharetta (GA) their only loss of the season on an exciting overtime goal by sophomore Samuel Bamigboye. Ultimately, the team fell just short of its goal of a state championship in a double overtime semifinal loss to the eventual state champion MUS Owls. Although the bitterness of this loss will linger for a long time, the team accomplished many goals that people outside of the team did not think were possible.

Almost the entire all-region team was made up of MBA starters including goalie Jack Benton, defenseman John Morphis, attackman Jackson Flora, and midfielders Conner Griffin, Frank Vest, and Hayden Holliman. In addition, Augie Houghton, Henry Richardson, William Reames, and Mattison Hamilton were all named first team all-state. Augie Houghton and Mattison Hamilton were also named 2012 All Americans. The team has much to proud of and the bonds formed among teammates will last forever.

Big Red Soccer

After a roller coaster of a season full of vuvuzelas and injuries, the soccer team came together to achieve an overall record of 7-5-2. The squad was lead by four year senior Chris Meluch whose controlled and cunning play kept the team solid across the midfield. Meluch's play was complimented by sophomores Jonah Rappuhn and Nick Obrebskey and the ferocious junior Hayden Deakins. Up top, the power of Marcus (Quis) Riley who made a ball "disappear" through a net and the finesse of Chris Briggs created a dynamic that had great potential. Center backs, Trey Gill and Henry Lynch, were flanked by Sam Smith and Jack Emerson whose eyesight should be healed by next season. After Jake (the snake) Simmons was injured, Drew Benson stepped into goal and proceeded to make several clutch saves to keep the team in games. The big red advanced to the quarter finals after beating JP2 at home, but the hard fought season came to a close with a loss to a well-equipped Christian Brother's team in Memphis. The team will miss senior Chris Meluch and goalie/fighting coach Cole Epstein but looks forward to the future return of many juniors, sophomores, and Curtis.

Ultimate Frisbee

In an up and down year of Ultimate Frisbee, the team participated in a number of tournaments against teams from around Tennessee. The team was led by strong seniors with team captain Rett Hooper flicking accurate, swift throws down the field, Jonathan McClelland going deep to catch the disc or stretching to block it, and Baker Swain playing stout defense. Their play was complemented strongly by tough juniors with David Maynard throwing many precise, nice discs, Will McFadden catching every throw that came his way, Tripp Adams going for the long ball, Parrish Preston's solid defense, and Clay McLemore's great catches. Team Captain sophomore Caleb Carpenter added toughness and was vital to the team. Ultimate finished 4th place in the State Tournament with losses to Blackman, Independence, and White Station and having a tough and somewhat disappointing end to the season. The team will be weaker with the losses of the seniors, but junior leadership will definitely help to fill their shoes.

MBA Climbing

Climbing at MBA has become more and more popular amongst students with each year. As a relatively new athletic opportunity, there is much room for MBA's climbing team to grow and expand; however, we are off to an amazing start. Climbing is a much more personal sport in that it also incorporates the climbing culture and etiquette. Also, unlike other sports, competitors in climbing are incredibly supportive and encouraging.

This year, the sport has encouraged every member of the team, regardless of their varying levels of experience, to set and accomplish goals as well as challenge themselves. Also, it has taught a great sense of team unity and budded strong, lasting relationships. Whether it was climbing in the gym or going on an outside trip, this has been a fantastic year for MBA climbing.

Three-time State Champions

MBA's number one player Aaron Jumonville prepares for a backhand at the State Championship.

After winning the state title the last two years, we went into this season with pretty high expectations and with a few other schools gunning to take the state title away from us. We had a really strong lineup with 4 returning starters and the addition of Aaron Jumonville, so we knew we had a great chance to repeat. We had some great duel wins during the season against Baylor, MUS, and McCallie, and it felt as if we really got better as the season progressed. Overall, we played some of our best tennis during the state tournament, and managed to pull off the threepeat. This was very exciting because it has only happened a few times in the history of our division.

Coming into the 2012 season, the varsity track team was hungry to redeem its one point loss to rival BA at the 2011 State Finals. Due to the loss of many talented runners who graduated last year, the team was relatively young compared to its competition. However, from the start of the season, the Big Red expected to seriously contend for a state championship with distance runners Daniel Peters, Myles Anderson, and David Arteaga, decathletes Bryan Oslin and Furman Haynes, sprinters Clay Sullivan, Jhamall Wright, and Michael Lacey, and other talented field event athletes. The varsity runners began the season well with wins at The Highland Games, Buster Relays, a second place finish at MBA's own Doug Hall Relays, and a convincing win at the region. Even though the team defeated BA by more than thirty points at the State Qualifying Competition, Brentwood Academy was predicted to slightly edge MBA for a victory at the State Finals. Unfortunately, the prediction held true. Although MBA scored more than seedings expected, at the end of the day, the team had finished second for a third year in a row, 11.5 points behind BA. There were some admirable performances by many athletes. Highlights include a 1st place finish by the 3200 meter relay team (Will Pearson, George Swenson, Clint Smith, David Arteaga), a 2nd place finish in the 800 meter relay team (Travonte Easley, Jhamall Wright, Jetarii Donald, Michael Lacey), and high individual placings by Daniel Peters, Bryan Oslin, and Madison Rieke in the 3200, pole vault and intermediate hurdles, and 800, respectively. Despite the loss, the team is excited for another chance of redemption next year with a group of young but talented runners.

MBA Crew

In a history-making season, the MBA Fall Crew team posted three golds, two silvers, and five bronze medals against rowing powerhouses like McCallie and Baylor. The fall features a five kilometer race known as a head race, in which teams compete for time with rolling starts. The team was led by Seniors Gray Curtis, Sam Martin, Gray Jones, Weston Bell, and Augie Houghton.

In the Spring, the team achieved even greater success. Led by seniors Sam Martin and Weston Bell, the team competed in a multitude of regattas from Gainesville, GA to Oak Ridge. The freshmen novice-four achieved unbelievable success, medaling at each regatta and winning a state championship. Other boats such as the varsity eight also had much success.

The fall of 2012 has much promise with the return of many underclassmen to lead the team as MBA Crew enters its second full varsity season.

Clubs and Events

The Hill is a happening place to be

Often MBA student's best memories can come from experiences outside the classroom. MBA, being one of the most active high school campuses in Nashville, offers students a wide array of opportunity to express themselves outside the classroom. Among these opportunities are the abundance of clubs that the school offers that are often organized and run by students. These clubs range anywhere from competing in academic competitions to cultural clubs that celebrate holidays, make food, and read literature to try to immerse students into a diverse global perspective. For some MBA students, their potential college major or even career path can be chosen from experiences they have had in clubs on campus. One of the most exciting parts about clubs and organizations is the events that they put together. Most notably, Prom and Homecoming are put on by the Junior Class officers and the Student Council respectively, but there are also many other club events such as Big Brother/Little Brother events and, in recent years, the fabled Endada - marking the biggest student run event of the year. Whether a student chooses to be a part of certain clubs or not, they cannot deny that club events are some of the most fun a student can have on a day-to-day basis. Our hope in this clubs and events section is to expose you to some of the most important clubs and happenings that go on throughout the school year. While not every event can be captured and put into the book, any MBA student will tell you that given everything that goes on during the school year, it would be impossible to catch them all.

Activity Fair

Come for the Doughnuts, Stay for the Clubs

Every year, the Activity Fair happens on a nice sunny day in the quad. The fresh smell of doughnuts fills the air in an otherwise pristine image of the iconic Sloan Quadrangle. A beam of light glistens and illuminates the dozens of tables with dozens of doughnuts that have been set up to promote various clubs. Then, suddenly, the rumble of student feet and teacher chatter emerges seemingly out of nowhere. Mass chaos ensues, and this chaos is what we call the Activity Fair. MBA is home to 60 registered clubs with a variety of interests from eating healthy, to playing the stock market. Clubs and organizations offer students to receive an education they might not otherwise have in the classroom and allows student ideas and interests to flourish. The food helps too.

Cultural Clubs: Globalizing MBA

At the heart the MBA club experience is the consistency of fun, learning, and involvement that are the cultural clubs. From the most unbelievably good food that has ever touched man's lips (Asian Cultural Club) to simple doughnuts and goodies, the Cultural Clubs know how to eat right and have fun chatting, interacting, and getting involved together. The most noteworthy part of each club is their respective dedication to service. In particular, the Asian Cultural Club raises funds (typically annually) for any disaster relief efforts that may need assistance to help people in Asian countries. In the past, the club has supported efforts in Japan and China, to name a few. The African American Studies Club is very involved in the community and brings out enormous numbers of students annually on Martin Luther King, Jr. Day to support a march that goes on downtown. While most students are sleeping or enjoying their MLK day off, the African American Studies Club is hard at work marching downtown in effort to support awareness for human rights. This march has been one of MBA's most cherished events in the past several years and we hope that the club continues its support and involvement. The Jewish Advisory Group continues to offer support and fun community for those MBA students who are Jewish. JAG meetings often have bagels which tends to draw many members. But more importantly, JAG offers a way for Jewish MBA students to reach out in fellowship with people who share a common belief and grow together in conversation, studying, and learning.

Clubs and Organizations

It was an early morning with fog on the ground in the fall at Montgomery Bell Academy. All was quiet at 9:38. Tables were set up around the quad as all Will Nortons on campus rallied together to set up and organize an event of massive proportion. The Winchester Chimes had long before rung and students were antsy. All of the sudden, the pitter-patter of microbe feet rush from Massey to the quad and the flood gates open from Ball, Carter, Ingram, and Davis. A mighty roar comes from the students. They have had breakfast; though it seems like thousands of years ago, in actuality, they ate just a few short hours (in human hours) before. As 720 fighting boys begin to throw punches and donuts, it is apparent this is just a normal day at MBA, with some extra pizzazz thrown in. Of course, the event mentioned above is the activity fair that takes place every fall in the quad. The event kicks off the club season that fuels the fire in the invigorated students to get involved and do some good. While there are many options of clubs to join, there will always be constants and clubs near and dear to our hearts, like the Service Club.

Clubs and Organizations at MBA are not a required part of the curriculum but an experience almost every student takes part in at some level. With 60+ clubs on campus it would be an understatement to say that something is always going on around The Hill. From the legendary and fairly recent Riddlers Club, to the consistency of Mazel-Prov, to the abstract of the Big Red Club, there is something for every student in a club at MBA. Clubs are also a part of one of the most epic traditions on campus in the form of food sales at break. In almost a weekly effort, some club or organization sponsors donut, cookie, or semi-annually, a Chick-Fil-A sale that will gross more money in 5 minutes than most of us could gross in a week selling the same product. It is safe to say that students enjoy the clubs mostly for the enrichment to their own lives, but also because they provide nourishment to their stomachs and support a good cause. We salute you, clubs and organizations!

Race for the Cure

The MBA community did a tremendous job of supporting Race for the Cure this year. Not only did the Big Red raise the most amount of money of any organization in Middle Tennessee, but the Big Red Community also attended the race with incredible numbers which made the run a great community event for a worthy cause. Many thanks to Eric Walsh and Mrs. Annie B. Williams for spearheading this event.

Long Mountain

In a new tradition, the Class of 2012 ventured to Long Mountain on a cool day in April to experience the site together as a class. The seniors had a day of relaxation as a class, as well as a time to enjoy the new facilities MBA has to offer. From the observatory to bass fishing and a ropes course, Long Mountain is a great resource.

Founder's Day

The annual Founder's Day race, held in honor of Van Webb, class of 1999, is the epitome of class competition among the student body. Vann Webb died during his Sophomore Year at Vanderbilt. While at MBA, Webb played football as an excellent wide receiver and ran track as a sprinter, winning the state championship. The event begins with a short assembly during break as the student body watches the race scene from Chariots of Fire. Within minutes, the entire student body gathers around the quad to watch the race, cheering for their classmates. This year, sophomore Keith Gambill edged out junior Cade Hooper in a close finish. Freshman Tobi Kehinde was a close third while senior Roe Moore suffered a fall and finished fourth. This is the first win by the Class of 2014.

HOMECOMING

PROM

Fine Arts on The Hill

Juniors in this class talk while they work on paintings.

During the past five years, MBA has certainly paid close attention to the arts and their importance to students. It is not uncommon to pass by a random student in the hallway who is an accomplished artist, musician, or actor. Springtime on The Hill is the most vibrant picture of the arts with artists-in-residence paying visits to the school, outdoor band concerts during breaks, and of course, the fabled Endada which is far and away the biggest student organized event at school all year. Student involvement is at an all-time high with student participation more commonly extending beyond the classroom. Student bands frequently play at MBA hosted events where student art is often featured. This combination of student work is often featured at alumni and admissions events and is a staple of the MBA community image. While the traditional ideal of the school is Gentleman, Scholar, Athlete, some have contested that Artist just may have a place alongside the iconic triple-threat. As of now, no changes are being made to implement such an idea, but it makes one think, is art as important at MBA as sports, academics, and morality? We believe most students on campus would say yes. We hope to illuminate and capture the growing surge of involvement in the arts on campus and display the passion and enthusiasm students at MBA bring to school daily.

Second-Annual Endada

Endada is possibly the academic year's most loved event by MBA students. Founded only two short years ago, Endada has exploded under the powerful leadership of Jamie Joyce, Noah Fardon, and Preston Evans (all class of 2012). The triumvirate of Co-Founders of the event initially wanted a way to bring the community to MBA to experience the arts in a new and enlightening way. The three certainly achieved that and much more. With an array of myriad opportunities during Endada, one could find himself doing theater exercises, watching improv, listening to local and student bands, observing visual art being done before his eyes, pottery, bowl making, watching student films, tasting local food and student made products, and most importantly, enjoying oneself. At the end of the day, Endada is MBA's most practical way to get outside and enjoy yourself while experiencing uncharted territory for most in the community. The school owes Jamie, Noah, Preston, and their team a huge thank-you for the conception of such an incredible event. The Class of 2012 will leave no better legacy than Endada. Here's to art!

The Pajama Game

Fall Musical

The 2011-2012 theatrical season began with an MBA / Harpeth Hall rendition of The Pajama Game. The large cast composed of energetic actors performed the show four times early in the fall season.

The students perfected this fun and lighthearted musical set in a small town in the Midwest in 1954. This story of labor management relations, as workers struggle for a raise, brought color and excitement to the Harpeth Hall stage.

The hard work of all people involved paid off, and the play was a massive success.

Thank you to all the cast and crew for your dedication.

You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown

MBA's Competition One-Act

This year's Competition One-Act included the entire Peanuts gang. In this charming adaptation starring everyone's favorite bunch. Featuring Mattison Asher as Charlie Brown, Aaron Ardisson as Snoopy, Lizzy Boston as Lucy, Alex Floyd as Linus, Hunter Woolwine as Schroeder, Anna Russell Thornton as Patty, Lilly Carver as Frieda, Nathan Fouts as Pigpen, and Jess Darnell as Shermy, the actors sang and danced their way to the Tennessee Theater Association's competition. After stealing our hearts in their first show at MBA, the cast and crew held an encore performance before heading down to Chattanooga to compete. The students completed another stellar performance and placed very well in the state. Congrats to all the cast and crew for putting on a great play.

The Mouse that Roared

The Mouse that Roared was a radiant piece of sunshine that was cast down (pun intended) on MBA during the dark and dreary winter months. A wonderful tale of a Cold War-type, the cast and crew put on a spectacular show. While the play certainly had its fair share of hysterical moments, it was definitely a show that had the audience thinking about the double-edged sword of atomic weaponry. After the Grand Duchy of Fenwick (led by Queen Gloriana played by Emily Smith) is almost bankrupt, the leaders of the country decide the only suitable course of action is to declare war on the United States in hopes that once defeated, they will receive economic stimulation. Alex Floyd shined as Tully Bascom who, a bit dim-wittedly, attempts to storm undoubtedly the greatest country in the entire world, the United States, with bows and arrows and only a few troops. After some comedic failures, Bascom happens upon German Professor Kokintz (played by James Gold Joyce) whose quirky personality led to the eventual exposure of the Quadrium Bomb (Q-Bomb) that the U.S. has built. After the bomb is in the hands of Fenwick, who knows what happens next! Hats off to the cast and crew for the excellent acting and the incredibly notable costuming and prop work.

Shakespeare's Twelfth Night

With a minimal set, live music, extravagant costumes, and passionate actors, William Shakespeare's Twelfth Night, under the direction of Malcolm Morrison, was a production fit for the Bard himself. Having been shipwrecked on the island of Illyria, Viola (Lizzie Boston) takes up the disguise of her brother and perfectly captures the comedy that accompanies concealing one's true gender. Several more comic devices ensue, consisting of dramatic irony, three half-drunk merrymakers, and one puritanical sourpuss. Eventually, more tragedy enters the plot as Malvolio (Aaron Ardisson) and Sir Andrew (Alex Floyd) begin to become the subject of everyone's annoyance. The live band, headed up by Vaughn Hunt, cleverly incorporated the sounds of harpist Emily Stewart, and created a perfect atmosphere for Shakespeare's tale of "what you will."

-Aaron Ardisson, Senior Thespian

Perception: 2012

MBA Student-directed One Acts

Perception: The 2012 Student-directed One Acts was a spectacular show. The Studio Theater class of Jamie Joyce, Preston Evans, Hunter Woolwine, Aaron Ardisson, Joe Barry, and Scott Dalton brought the heat this year in a wide array of genres. Jamie directed "Living Together" by Alan Ayckbourn. Preston adapted and directed Flannery O'Connor's "A Good Man is Hard to Find," Hunter directed "A Play on Plays" by Maclin Davis ('12). Aaron Ardisson wrote, adapted, and directed "Trompe L'oeil" inspired by Edgar Allen Poe's "Tell Tale Heart," and Scott Dalton directed "The Absolute Most Clichéd Elevator Play in the History of the Entire Universe" by Werner Trieschmann. Joe Barry starred in "Elevator Play" and "A Play on Plays." With the guiding hand of the expert himself, Cal Fuller, the show went off without a hitch leaving the audience both entertained and enlightened about theater and the implications of each play. The 2012 year in the Visual Arts continues the strong tradition in the arts that the school has enjoyed. Thanks to the dedication and creativity of the students in the program and their teachers who constantly challenge them. Students have been recognized across the area in competitions ranging from the Middle Tennessee Young Artists Show at the Renaissance Center where 6 students received awards to the Scholastic Competition at Cheekwood where over 25 students from grades 8 through 12 were recognized in a number of different artistic categories. There will be a student art show on April 28 which places on display the work of the entire department for the year. It will feature the work of Advanced Placement students to the quarterly work of junior school students. Imagery has appeared throughout the school in the Archives publication, in the gallery, and in the library. Placed throughout the school, students will find works purchased from students at graduation from the balcony of the library to the Ball Building. One recent addition to this growing collection is an oil painting by Michael Griffin featuring the Long Mountain Observatory at night. One special feature of art on the campus can be found in the Gibbs Room in Davis. This year featured paintings from the Cheekwood collection of western scenes which coincided with their Buffalo Bill Show as well as prints by Meyer Wolfe for February through the spring. The year concludes with the second appearance of Endada on April 28 featuring art, music, theater, food, crafts, and demonstrations from all over the region. Under the leadership of Catharine Hollifield, this event strives to highlight the arts with a day of celebration.

MBA Orchestra

I had a wonderful time playing in MBA's orchestra! Not only did it allow me to share my musical abilities with my classmates and friends; it opened the door to other opportunities in which to use my musical talents like mid-state orchestra, all-state orchestra, and even service projects.

The MBA Junior School has been an excellent experience for my classmates and me. On the first day of seventh grade, I knew that the Junior School would give me the perfect building blocks for the High School. I also understood that there was a great deal of tradition on The Hill. The Junior School offers so much for any type of student. Some of these opportunities that I have participated in include Mathcounts, Top of the Hill (the Junior School newspaper), and FCA, just to name a few. The teachers have also been very helpful for my success these years with help sessions and their inordinate knowledge about the topics they are teaching. I have also had many athletic opportunities in the Junior School. Throughout my two years I have participated in football, basketball, baseball, and cross-country. Reflecting on these years, every second has been worthwhile and will help me in the future.

This year's Junior School production of Johnny Tremain was a helpful experience for its dedicated cast. During many rehearsals we were praised for our diligent work but constantly pushed to do better. Following leads from our directors Dr. Seay and Mr. Berry, and hints from each other, every cast member learned and taught. A great sense of accomplishment was bestowed upon us for our many hours of long work to tell the simple but inspiring story of a young boy who refused to give up and stand idly by but instead decided to take action.

"Trust in the LORD with all your heart and lean not on your own understanding; in all your ways submit to him, and he will make your paths straight." Proverbs 3:5-6

Success is not so much what we have as it is what we are....
Life is not the breath you take, but the moments that take your breath away.

You have warmed our hearts and made our lives complete,
We wish you a future of happiness and may your fondest dreams come true.

We love you!
Mom & Dad

Class of 2012

The Class of 2012 bids a final farewell to the Hill. Was it all that we had hoped for in a high school experience? Absolutely. MBA has ingrained a sense of brotherhood in each and every one of us, a bond that we will share for the rest of our lives. Though we will now leave The Hill behind, the memories will remain sweet as we reminisce about our time on The Hill and look forward to the days ahead. ROLL RED!

Drew Haynes

Congratulations Drew.....

The 2012 Bell was produced by the yearbook staff at Montgomery Bell Academy in Nashville, Tennessee. This book was printed by Herff Jones, Inc. in Kansas City, Kansas. The account was expertly serviced by representative Mary Harris, customer service adviser Julie Bogart, and technical support adviser Debbie King. Dr. Gretchen Zimmerman was the faculty advisor. All page layouts were produced on eDesign, proofed at Montgomery Bell Academy, and digitally submitted to the plant.

This yearbook was produced by a small team of dedicated students during free periods in the school day, after school, on the weekends, during exams, and after the school year had officially ended. The yearbook requires a huge investment in time and energy; although most of the work happens behind the scenes, those of us who have spent countless hours on this book are proud of the book we have produced. We hope that as you page through this finished product that you appreciate that each page took this staff approximately four hours to complete; all told more than 2000 hours of work are represented by these pages.

This 348 page book would not have been possible without the following:

The expertise and enthusiasm of Herff Jones's Mary Harris.

The dedication and hard work of a very small staff.

The countless photos taken by Michael Jones Photography, Will Norton, Jamie Tillman, Catharine Hollifield, MBA's amazing parents, students, and faculty.

The help of Nita Snow, Jennifer Howell, Cherie Rudolph, Angela Power, and especially Kit Lechleiter and Cherie Roberts.

The support of the Finance Office's Sam Jackson, Carrie Lund, Cherie Rudolph, and Vicki Matthews. Thank you for making our budget work.

The technical assistance of Marc Ardisson, Marcus Piggee, and especially Chris Reynolds.

The help and cooperation of the many faculty and students who have contributed in to this book. We appreciate all of you who cheerfully gathered for group photos, responded to email requests; and provided content and photos. We would especially like to thank Weston Bell, whose tireless work during the month of May made this book's completion possible. We would also like to thank MBA alum and Dr. Zimmerman's husband Phil Zimmerman for his help when he would have rather been training for ultra-marathons. We hope that this book showcases the best of MBA.
Roll Red.
